WIFE NEEDS KIDNEY MACHINE

Hub Spouse In $11,000 Crisis

By DON BRANNING

Joseph Alvarez, a 62-year-old San Anselmo jewelry repairman, has a choice to make. He can hock everything he will ever own, or let his wife die.

His wife, Dorothy, a 48-year-old former Navy nurse, has been seriously ill for several years, and he has spent thousands of dollars on her illnesses. Now she has almost total kidney failure, and last week her doctor presented Alvarez his dilemma — get $11,000 to buy a kidney machine and pay for the technicians, or let her die.

The doctor told Alvarez, of 41 Rosemont Avenue, he had a few days to think about it. But not too many days. If he pays for the kidney machine and the hospital, his wife may die anyway. Without it, she will surely die, in about a month, the doctor said.

So Alvarez has been going to his shop in San Francisco during the day, visiting his wife at the San Francisco Veterans Administration Hospital in the evening, and thinking about how soon he can let the doctor know whether or not he can raise the $11,000.

"It sounds brutal, but that's what it boils down to," said the Veterans Administration physician, Dr. David Eby. "She has uremia and her kidneys have almost totally ceased to function. With very careful procedures, we can keep her alive for a month.

"With the kidney machine, there is a fair possibility that she will survive. No one can say for sure she will be alive a year from now, but there is a fair possibility."

The kidney machine, which is about the size of a washing machine, cleans the blood of the impurities which are ordinarily removed by the kidneys. If Alvarez can come up with $4,000 to buy one, and a minimum of $7,000 for the technicians and other hospital bills, Mrs. Alvarez would go to Franklin Hospital in San Francisco for a stay of at least two months.

During that time, she and Alvarez would learn how to operate the machine. When sufficiently recovered, she and the machine would go home. She would plug herself into the

Brennan Dismissal Is Upheld

The Nicasio School District board last night in closed session heard from a state hearing officer that it had had "good cause" to fire Mrs. Garnett Brennan, their marijuana-smoking principal.

The board then adopted the report of the officer, re-affirming their decision not to re-hire Mrs. Brennan for the 1968-69 school year.

TOLD OF MARIJUANA

Mrs. Brennan, 58, who signed an affidavit supporting Mill Valley mechanic Melkon Melkonian, convicted of marijuana possession, said at the time that she had been using marijuana without ill effects for years.

This disclosure led to her ouster last Oct. 7 and the decision not to rehire her for the next school year.

Mrs. Brennan requested a hearing before an officer of the state Office of Administrative Procedure, and such a hearing was granted, with Harold A. Furst as the hearing officer. This hearing was concluded May 7, but Furst did not disclose his findings until the closed meeting last night.

He said in his report that the board had not only good cause to fire Mrs. Brennan but that they had done it in a legal manner.

WHAT'S NEXT?

Asst. County Counsel Richard Godino said that the next round in Mrs. Brennan's battle for reinstatement is the trial scheduled for May 20 in Marin County Superior Court.

Godino said that in light of the hearing officer's decision, he doubted that the court would consider the matter of re-hiring Mrs. Brennan for next year but would confine its discussion to propriety of her firing in mid-term. Mrs. Brennan is asking that she be paid for the rest of this school year.

Sacramento Youth Convicted Of Murder

OAKLAND (AP) — An Alameda County jury convicted Peter P. Salaber Jr. of Sacramento yesterday of murdering Mrs. Marion H. Martin, 41, secretary to Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, in Sacramento.

The jury — six men and six women — meets tomorrow to consider the penalty.

Ross Blaze Guts Greene Mansion

The old A. Crawford Greene home at 1 Shady Lane in Ross was gutted last night in a spectacular fire which could be seen all over the Ross Valley. (See photos, page 5.)

Only the outer shell of the house, in the process of being demolished by Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael, was standing when the blaze was finally extinguished at 3 a.m. The fire was first reported at 10:22 p.m.

Cause of the fire was unknown, a Ross Fire Department spokesman said. Children had been seen playing near the house earlier in the evening, he noted.

The Kentfield and San Anselmo fire departments were called for assistance. Kentfield provided two trucks and 20 men to fight the fire while San Anselmo sent one truck and two men to stand by at the Ross fire station. Ross had 12 men and one truck on the scene.

The house, more than 60 years old, was first occupied by the Greenes, a prominent Marin County family, in 1917. Greene, a San Francisco attorney and civic leader, died in December. His wife, Natalie Coffin Greene, died in February, 1967.

The house is presently owned by the Greenes' five children. The building was being demolished so that the property could be put up for sale.

WEST MARIN PROTEST

Trustees' Teacher Firing Questioned

The firing of a West Marin teacher last week led last night to charges the West Marin School District board had acted improperly.

Over 30 parents turned out last night at the meeting of the district trustees to protest the firing of Mrs. June Tolbert, sixth-grade teacher at Point Reyes school, on May 7.

A request by members of the audience that the board reconsider its action was turned down by the board. However, the trustees did indicate their willingness to meet with Mrs. Tolbert's attorneys.

Mrs. Tolbert was fired after her case was discussed in two executive sessions of the board on April 22 and May 7. The vote to dismiss was 3-2 with trustees Bruce Daniels and Robert W. Giacomini dissenting.

In a written statement read at last night's meeting, the board indicated it had fired Mrs. Tolbert because of the way in which she had handled an incident where improper language had been used in the classroom by a student.

However, the board indicated its willingness to meet with Mrs. Tolbert and her attorneys to discuss the issue. If the matter cannot be resolved in informal discussions, the only other alternative open to Mrs. Tolbert is to take the matter to court.

Mrs. Tolbert said two students had used 'obscene language" in the classroom and that she had discussed the reasons why the children used such words with the entire class. During the discussion she wrote a word used on the blackboard, she said.

Ross Man Faces Charges On Night-Long Toil To Free Borrowed, Stranded Auto

By STEPHEN COOK

A touch of the demon rum, perserverance of heroic proportions and a streak of bad luck took a 22-year-old Ross man through what must have seemed the tunnels of Hell Sunday night.

The misfortunes of John Michael Brown, of 6 Fernhill, began to attract notice at 8:30 a.m. yesterday, when Sheriff's Deputy Dennis Shine was called to the parking lot of Construction Supply Co. in Greenbrae.

A company foreman reported that a pickup truck and a one-and-a-half-ton flatbed truck had been hotwired and stolen the night before.

As Shine took that report, Byron S. Hovis of Petaluma walked up and reported that his pickup had been stolen from the same area.

The three trucks were found two hours later, bogged down, all in a row, in Northwestern Pacific Railroad's Greenbrae tunnel, which runs under California Park hill to San Rafael

There was also a car in the tunnel.

James Shell Gray of 290 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, approached Deputy Shine at the tunnel and claimed the auto. A friend had borrowed the car, he said, and managed to get it bogged down in the train tunnel. Gray asked for the car, but Deputy Shine said he would keep it until someone explained the matter of the three trucks.

At 1:30 p.m., Gray brought Brown to the sheriff's office.

Closeted in an interrogation room with Deputy Shine, Brown told this tale:

He drank too much liquor, he said. He borrowed Gray's car and tried backing the vehicle along the tunnel's railroad tracks from the south to the north end.

When he tried to drive back out the way he had entered, the wheels slipped off the tracks and the car hung up, its axle balancing on the tracks. That was at about 10 p.m. Sunday.

Brown and a friend tried to shove the vehicle free. After struggling in vain, Brown left the tunnel, hotwired a truck and drove it into the tunnel to pull the car free.

The truck, once inside the tunnel, bogged down and would not move. Brown, dismayed, emerged from the tunnel to borrow another truck.

It, too, proved immovable, once inside the tunnel.

The third truck was almost the charm. Brown worked the car free, only to have the truck hang up in the tunnel.

With his car mobile once again, Brown backed down the tracks to the northern mouth of the tunnel. There, he found he could not negotiate the steep bank from the railroad tracks.

Stubbornly, he drove the car back down the tunnel and tried

Marin Transit Directors Repeat Demand For Span Board Shakeup

Marin County Transit District directors today reaffirmed their stand for more Marin representation on the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and added that the ultimate solution would be the abolition of the bridge district and creation of a Marin-San Francisco transit district.

The unanimous action came this morning on a motion by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer after a discussion of three bills pending in the State Legislature.

The transit district directors decided to endorse all three bills, including AB 2057 by Marin Assemblyman William T. Bagley, which would abolish the bridge district and replace it with a Marin-San Francisco transit district.

Another bill is AB 175 by Assemblyman John F. Foran of San Francisco, which would increase representation from Marin and San Francisco and empower the bridge district to operate water and underwater transportation. The third is SB 1012 by Sen. Randolph Collier of Yreka, which is similar to AB 175 except that the makeup of the bridge board would remain the same.

Storer presented a rusty rivet and a corroding piece of metal, which he said came from the Golden Gate Bridge. "The rivets are melting off, and many are missing," said Storer. "Recently, they had to have a crash repair program . . . This terrifies me as to what they might find if they keep looking."

Storer declared that Bagley's bill to abolish the bridge district would "remove the final roadblock" to improve commuter transportation between Marin and San Francisco. He said the bridge district's plan to make a $12 million improvement on the bridge toll plaza will not help Marin commuters at all.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss, John F. McInnis and Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen declared that pieces of rusty metal taken from any structure would be meaningless unless information is presented to show the importance of the pieces of metal.

McInnis and Kettenhofen said some member of the bridge engineering staff should have been present to reply to Storer's charges if the maintenance of the bridge is to be discussed.

Kettenhofen called for support of AB 175, noting that Assemblyman Bagley had told

Persons wishing to burn may call the department that serves their area for burning permits.

Sorbonne Students In Cultural Revolt

French Reds Challenging Gaullist Rule

PARIS (UPI)—Students seized the Sorbonne University today in a hippie-style "cultural revolution" while leftist deputies in Parliament filed a censure motion against the Gaullist regime in a tumultous session suspended when the deputies almost came to blows.

The students, launching their own version of Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution, hung out red flags, displayed Mao posters and tried to sell Mao pamphlets which no one bought. The hippie elements demanded that marijuana be legalized.

SUSPENDS SESSION

The National Assembly suspended its session on orders from parliamentary President Jacques Chaban-Demau as tempers flared and it appeared some deputies had challenged others to a fight.

The incident erupted moments after Communist Party and leftist-Socialist Federation deputies filed a motion designed to bring down the government President Charles de Gaulle.

EDUCATION POLICIES

The motion challenges the Gaullists over higher education policies and handling of a week of student riots that injured 1,500 persons. The unrest boiled over Monday into a nationwide general strike and noisy marchers and demonstrations by hundreds of thousands of students.

De Gaulle, who has publicly ignored the student-triggered turmoil, flew off to Communist

Harriman Sees No Quick Pact

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said today he expects no quick agreement to end the Vietnam war.

He said when he went to Moscow in July 1963 to conclude a nuclear test ban pack with the Soviets he predicted agreement would be reached in 10 days. The negotiations stretched on a month.

"I wouldn't make any such prediction this time," Harriman told newsmen in an impromtu interview outside the U.S. Embassy.

Harriman consulted with his aides today and was reported in telephone contact with President Johnson, who has arrived back in Washington from Texas ranch, on the preliminary talks which began yesterday. The talks were recessed today so each side could consult with its home government.

There still was no comment here on Secretary General Thant's speech last night in Edmonton, Alberta, calling for an immediate end to the American bombing of North Vietnam. He condemned the American bombing as illegal and immoral.

Bui Diem, the South Vietnamese ambassador to Washington who is an observer in Paris, called for an appointment with Harriman this afternoon, possibly to discuss the Thant speech.

The U.S.-North Vietnamese talks are expected to last for weeks, perhaps even for months.

Harriman proposed a troop

156 Are Believed Dead In Downed Transport

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces shot down four American planes and five helicopters during the attack in which they seized the Kham Duc Special Forces camp, military spokesmen said today.

Two of the planes were big four-engine C130 cargo transports evacuating South Vietnamese irregulars and their families.

About 150 South Vietnamese and six Americans are believed to have been killed in one of the C130s, U.S. sources said. This toll would be more than triple the worst previous crash of the Vietnam war and would also exceed the world's worst civilian aviation disaster, the collision of two airliners over New York City on Dec. 16, 1960, in which 134 persons were killed.

The second C130 lost was just landing to pick up government troops when it was hit by antiaircraft fire. The six American crewmen aboard escaped but the plane was destroyed.

Kham Duc is 350 miles northeast of Saigon, about 30 miles southwest of Da Nang, and 13 and one-half miles from the Laotian border. American B52 bombers continued today to pound the enemy troops around

Jet Flying Ike To Walter Reed

MARCH AFB (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower left the base hospital here today for Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington to complete his convalescence from his fourth heart seizure in 13 years.

A spokesman at the hospital, where the 77-year-old soldier-statesman has been confined since April 29, said Eisenhower was in good spirits as he left aboard the Air Force 707 jet equipped with special medical equipment. He was accompanied by his attending physician.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

'Our Gang' Member Dead At 38

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Scotty Beckett, remembered as the boy with the big brown eyes in the "Our Gang" comedies, is dead at the age of 38.

Scotty, 1934

Police said his death apparently was caused by a possible overdose of alcohol or drugs. The coroner's office said further tests would be necessary to determine the specific cause of death.

The body of Beckett, who played Al Jolson as a boy in the film biography of the singer, was found last Friday in an apartment. He had been a car salesman in recent years.

Beckett's last years were marked by a series of brushes with the law and disputes with his family. He was arrested several times on charges of drunkenness or drunken driving. In 1957, he was arrested on suspicion of crossing the Mexican border with 250 stimulant pills in his pocket.

Beckett, 1960

He appeared in "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," "Anthony Adverse," "King's Row," "The Jolson Story," "Charge of the Light Brigade" and "Battleground." He made his last film, "Hot News," in 1953.

Garbage Tangle

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Once again a large Southern city is tangled in a strike by garbage men that began over money and spread to threats of racial boycott and charges of outside agitation.

This time it is the streets of the Gulf Coast tourist and retirement mecca which are redolent with the stench of garbage steaming in the 90-degree afternoon sun.

When the strike began in this city of 181,000 May 6, City Manager Lynn Andrews fired all 170 strikers.

Marvin Davies, the state field director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, threatened yesterday to boycott downtown businesses if the local chamber of commerce doesn't back off from supporting Andres' action in firing the strikers.

Seal Bite

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Malcolm Coulter, member of a birdwatching expedition to the bleak Farallon Islands in the Pacific 26 miles west of here, was flown to the mainland by Coast Guard helicopter for treatment of an elephant seal bite on the shin.

The elephant seal, said a zoologist, is "not vicious ordinarily. However, if you irritate them, they will snap."

Hits Rifle Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House investigators demanded today that the Pentagon explain in detail why the Army agreed to pay $56 million for 240,000 M16 rifles when it could have obtained the same number for $20 million less.

Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., chairman of a special House Armed Services investigating subcommittee, said before the start of hearings today that he thought "the burden of proof" lay with the Defense Department.

Asks Record Check

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Defense attorneys yesterday asked the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals to adjourn the federal firearms violations trial of H. Rap Brown until he had time to examine FBI recordings involving him.

But jury selection was expected to continue today in an effort to seat three more jurors and four alternates. Seven women, three of them Negroes, and two men were selected Monday.

Brown's defense attorneys asked for adjournment "until petitioner is granted a reasonable time in which to examine electronic intercept logs effecting him."

NATO Discussion

ATHENS (UPI)—Vice Adm. William I. Martin, commander of the U.S. 6th Fleet, conferred yesterday with Greek Premier George Papadopolous on "various matters" of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), the Athens news agency said.

Litter Fine Too

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — John Coble, 17, lost his temper when police stopped him for speeding March 12.

Coble tore up the speeding ticket and threw it to the pavement. Coble appeared before City Court Judge Robert G. Burton yesterday and was fined $12 for speeding—and $25 for dumping rubbish on the highway.

Trial Is Moved

UKIAH (AP) — The trial of two Washington youths accused of seriously wounding a girl and killing her escort will be moved from Ukiah to San Jose.

Superior Court Judge John McMurray of Inyo County, assigned to preside at the trial, announced the site yesterday after conferring with prosecution and defense attorneys.

No trial date was announced.

Last March the state Supreme Court ordered a change of venue shifting the trial of Leonard Maine and Thomas E. Braun from Mendocino County.

The youths, both now 20, were charged with shooting Timothy Luce, 17, to death and with abducting his companion, Susan Diane Bartolomei.

The girl, who only recently emerged from a coma, observed her 18th birthday last week in the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Ball Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved by voice vote the nomination of George W. Ball to succeed Arthur J. Goldberg as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Brown Marries

NEW YORK (UPI) — Black power advocate H. Rap Brown was married earlier this month to a young New York City school teacher, it was learned today.

Brown, 24, wed Miss Lynne Doswell, 22, on May 3 in a private ceremony in the suburban Mamaroneck home of one of his attorney's, William M. Kunstler. Brown is on trial in New Orleans at present on charges of violating Federal firearms regulations.

Honor To Hope

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Bob Hope, accepting an award before a dinner assemblage of 3,500 at the U.S. Military Academy last night, said he felt "as out of place as Dean Martin at an A.A. meeting or Phyllis Diller at a Miss Universe Contest."

Hope, who will be 65 on May 26, was presented with the annual Sylvanns Thayer Award for giving "freely of his time and talent to raise the morale and warm the hearts of two generations of servicemen."

Panama Unrest

PANAMA CITY (UPI) — Riots in Panama's presidential election today left at least two dead amid bursts of machinegun fire and flames from Molotov cocktails.

National Guard troops patrolled the city to prevent more violence today and the government election tribunal, fearing new outbreaks, withheld the results of Sunday's balloting. Both the government backed candidate, David Samudio, and opposition leader Arnulfo Arias, claimed victory.

Nebraska, West Virginia Voting; Alioto Leans Towards Humphrey

COMBINED AP & UPI

OMAHA, Neb. — Nebraska Democrats vote today in a presidential primary which Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said he must win if he is to become the party's nominee for the White House.

Rival campaigner Eugene J. McCarthy, privately pessimistic about his prospects, insisted that Nebraska alone would not be crucial to his presidential effort and said he would stay in the race whatever the outcome.

Richard M. Nixon led the Republican list. His managers claimed they had faced aggressive campaigns for absent GOP challengers from backers of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey appeared like to gain a big share of the state's 30 Democratic nominating votes.

WEST VIRGINIA

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — West Virginia voters pick delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions and select party nominees for governor today in a state primary election.

All three Democratic presidential contenders — Humphrey, Kennedy, and McCarthy — have made West Virginia appearances seeking support among the 110 candidates for Democratic convention seats.

Sixty-five Republicans are running for convention seats. Among those who announced their preference, Nixon's margin over Rockefeller was between 2-to-1 and 3-to-1. Neither campaigned in the state.

NIXON

McMINNVILLE, Ore. — Nixon began his third campaign visit to Oregon today with a speech at this manufacturing and college community 32 miles south of Portland.

Nixon was to appear at the National Guard armory before moving to Medford in southern Oregon tonight for an address at the senior high school.

ROCKEFELLER

ALBANY, N.Y. — Rockefeller will deliver a second speech on the Vietnam conflict and foreign policy in general in an appearance tomorrow at Pennsylvania State University.

Rockefeller, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, delivered his first major address on Vietnam May 1, the day after his entry into the race.

KUCHEL

REDLANDS — Campaigning for re-election, Sen Thomas H. Kuchel cautioned college students today against a retreat into a new American isolationism, declaring "That day is gone and gone forever."

The senator, seeking votes for renomination in Southern California, on the second of a four-day tour, declared that "We need to find a better way" of life than the current nuclear standoff between the United States and the Soviet Union.

CLEAVER

The newly emerged Peace and Freedom party has its second announced Negro candidate for the presidential nomination — imprisoned Oakland militant Eldridge Cleaver.

Cleaver's entry was announced yesterday in San Francisco by his wife, Kathleen.

The 33-year-old minister of information for the Black Panther Party for Self Defense joins militant comedian Dick Gregory in a bid for the nomination at their party's July national convention.

Meanwhile, in Chicago, Republican Sen. George Murphy said he feels the nominee will be either Johnson or Humphrey.

And in San Francisco, Mayor Joseph L. Alioto said it's likely Humphrey will win the nomination, but on the second or third ballot.

Alioto also said he will probably be a cochairman of a big city mayors committee for Humphrey.

POOR PEOPLE'S CITY GOING UP

Mule Train Makes Slow-Paced Progress; Detroit Police Action Brings Complaint

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The tent city participants in the Poor People's March are erecting near the Lincoln Memorial here took on the appearance of an organized community today as the first contingent of demonstrators prepared to set up housekeeping.

The plywood and canvas shelters began going up yesterday with a vow from the march leader the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, that "we will be here in Washington until the Congress and leaders of government decide they are going to do something about poverty, unemployment and underemployment in the United States."

The 500 marchers in the vanguard, mostly from Mississippi, stayed overnight in accommodations provided by sympathetic local churches, organizations and individuals because facilities of their "Resurrection City, U.S.A." were not ready to use yet.

Current estimates put the total number of demonstrators expected here at 5,000, but the terms of the government permit for the tent city limit its size to 3,000. The overflow presumably will be accommdated by the same groups that helped out the early arrivals.

Abernathy, successor to the slain Martin Luther King Jr. as leader of the march and president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, set the tone for the demonstration yesterday in ceremonies dedicating the camp-in.

With his voice frequently drowned out by jetliners taking off from Washington's National Airport, Abernathy declared "this is a nonviolent movement. We shall not destroy person or property."

"But we cannot guarantee anything more," he said, "because we are going to plague the pharoahs of this country until we get meaningful jobs and a guaranteed annual wage."

The Washington phase of the march got off to a smooth though delayed start, but trouble flared briefly in Detroit late yesterday. Mounted police swinging night sticks rode into a part of the crowd when a scuffle broke out between police and several marchers after one of the parade cars broke down, and police attempted to tow it way.

There were no reported injuries, but Abernathy dispatched top aides for a full report on alleged "Detroit police errors of judgment and excesses" in the encounter.

A 15-wagon mule train snail-paced down a Mississippi highway yesterday to start a symbolic journey to Washington.

The mule train, led by Willie Bolden of the SCLC, covered only 10 miles on its first day's trip from Marks, Miss. But Bolden described the initial jaunt as "great," despite a broken wagon-tongue, a collapsed cover on another wagon, and the apparent "seasickness" of the honorary wagonmaster, Henry Lee Brown, 12, riding in one of the swaying wagons.

Assemblymen Trying To Outsmart Detroit

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblymen from both parties worked today to repeal tough, new amendments to proposed antismog legislation, saying those provisions only play into the hands of Detroit auto manufacturers.

The supporters of the amendments succeeded by a 43-24 vote last week to eliminate provisions allowing individual auto companies extra time to develop better antismog devices.

"The domestic manufacturers say they will not oppose the stricter requirements and they will meet the standards," said Assemblyman James A. Hayes, R-Long Beach, sponsor of the new amendments.

But some of Hayes' opponents say that the auto manufacturers have an ulterior motive in not opposing Hayes' move.

"It seems we would be defeating our purpose in the battle we just got through making," said Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, in opposing Hayes' amendments.

Lanterman referred to a new national law giving California the right to pass stricter antismig restrictions than federal laws require — if Washington approves California's provisions.

If California's provisions are as strict as Hayes proposes, Detroit manufacturers will have "a rung to hang their hat on" in getting the federal government to reject the state's antismog plan said Assemblyman John Francis Foran, D - San Francisco, chairman of the Assembly Transportation and Commerce Committee.

Foran is author of the full antismog bill, which he calls the "strongest smog control measure" ever introduced in the United States. For the first time, the bill would set limits on the amount of smog-causing hydorcarbons and carbon monoxide which car engines could legally emit.

The measure would take effect in 1970.

A vote on Foran's complete bill was delayed in the Assembly during debate over Hayes' amendments.

Tiny Tot Rec Program Slated

Signups for a four-week tiny tots program and for a hula hoop contest Thursday are being taken now by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department.

The tiny tots program, recreation and crafts for children from 3 and one half to 5 years old, will start May 27. Children may register for Monday and Thursday or Tuesday and Friday. Sessions are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Signups for the hula hoop contest will be at after-school playgrounds at Alto, Homestead, Old Mill and Park schools with the winners to compete May 25 in a city championship.

Camp Wins County Nod To Expand

The operator of Forest Farm Camps in Lagunitas won a use permit yesterday to expand his summer camp into 54 acres of land north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Arroyo Road and Samuel P. Taylor Park.

County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill approved the use permit for Jack R. Felson, operator of the summer camp, after a hearing at the Civic Center.

The county zoning administrator also:

KENNEL DENIED — Denied the construction of breeding kennels for a maximum of 50 dogs on 20 acres of land above Muir Beach on the south side of Franks Valley Road, about three-fourths of a mile west of Shoreline Highway. Cordill said the area is "inappropriate" because it lies near a creek bed where contamination is possible, and the sounds would echo up the valley.

GUN CLUB — Approved the continued use of a gun club on property owned by St. Vincent's School for Boys on the east side of Highway 101 north of Lucas Valley Road.

ADDITION — Granted Kathryn McGuire permission to build an addition to an existing home at 113 Terrace Avenue, Kentfield, which would encroach to within five feet of the property line, where a 10-foot setback is normally required.

I-J Promotions Honored By 'Editor And Publisher'

The Independent-Journal today received three 1967 "Editor & Publisher" Newspaper Promotion Awards in competitions held throughout the United States and Canada.

The newspaper received two first prizes for circulation promotion and classified advertising promotion and a merit award for advertising presentations in the under 100,000 circulation group.

Ray Mount Rogers, Independent-Journal promotion manager, received the awards at a special luncheon held at the 38th International Newspaper Promotion Association Conference in Rochester, N.Y. The awards were presented by Robert U. Brown, president and editor of "Editor & Publisher." The INPA is a co-sponsor of the award program.

The Independent-Journal received more awards than any other newspaper in the under 100,000 circulation group and only the Chicago Tribune, competing in the over 100,000 circulation group, received more, winning four.

In winning two first place awards, the Independent-Journal tied with the Chicago Tribune and the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman & Times.

More than 1,000 entries were judged.

The annual competition was judged by top advertising, publishing, public relations and research executives.

Wishard A. Brown, Independent- Journal publisher and retiring president of the INPA, presided at the association's annual conference. Norwin Yoffie, Independent-Journal business manager, was a featured speaker at the conference, which will end tomorrow.

At the request of his lawyer yesterday, the arraignment was set back to next Monday morning in Municipal Judge Alan A Lindsay's court. Bail was continued at $100,000.

The 26-year-old Truax was an aide to the executive director of the Association of Bay Area Governments when he vanished Feb. 8, the same time the losses were discovered. Truax was arrested in Florida April 18.

Lagunitas School Pay Hike Scope Extended

A 5 per cent increase in salaries of non-certificated personnel was voted last night by Lagunitas School District trustees. The board had voted a similar increase for teachers at its last meeting.

The raise for seven employees will represent an increase of about $1,300 over the district's 1967-68 budget of $344,313, according to Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff, but will not affect the tax rate which is $2.65 per $100 assessed valuation.

The board also learned that the district has received a federal grant of $4,298 for a counseling program. The money will be used to hire a part-time teacher to free one of the regular teachers for counselling, McCunniff said.

The Lagunitas School District Board also:

AUDIT — Decided to hire Sleezer and Eckhoff to do the annual audit.

RESOLUTION — Passed a resolution asking the Marin County Planning Commission to remove from the master plan school site at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Nicasio Road, as the district is no longer interested in this site.

MERIT — Took under concideration a proposal by the teachers that merit increases be a flat $500.

SUBSTITUTES — Increased pay for substitute teachers from $22.50 to $26 a day and from $25 to $30 for teachers serving 10 days or more.

CONTRACTS — After an executive session the board voted to rehire all the present teachers except the ones who have resigned.

BUILDING — Heard a report on the progress of the new San Geronimo Valley School which is under construction.

BUSES — Voted to ask a representative from a transportation company to come to the next meeting May 27 to give estimates of costs of contracting for transportation.

machine about twice a week, with some possibility she could resume a nearly normal life.

Dr. Eby said there are people going about their work in this area who are following a kidney machine procedure like this. The trouble, he said, is that there are not many kidney machines.

They have them at Franklin Hospital and the University of California Hospital, but they are booked up. Dr. Eby said there are a couple at San Francisco County Hospital, and that is a card he will play later in the week. Mrs. Alvarez will go to that hospital for a kidney analysis, with the hope she will be accepted as a patient there.

The Alvarez' daughter, Margarita, 11, has written to President Johnson, appealing for help for her mother.

"I know that you have two daughters and you know that when they were little, they needed a mother, too!" Margarita, a student at Brookside School, wrote.

The girl's letter brought responses from two Veterans Administration officials who said everything would be done to help Mrs. Alvarez.

Margarita has an older brother, Charles, 18, a student at College of Marin.

Dr. Eby said Mrs. Alvarez is "alert and able to converse with her family, but she is too debilitated to attempt a kidney transplant. It would kill her."

Alvarez said his wife has been in and out of hospitals with high blood pressure and other ailments for the past four years.

This last year, he said, has been "like a nightmare." He said that he believed he could raise part of the money by getting a second mortgage on his house. "She is precious to me," he said. "I don't want to let her die."

him this is the only bill that has any chance of passage this year.

But Supervisor Peter H. Behr and Dean Meyer of Mill Valley argued that endorsing of AB 2057 would not jeopardize passage of AB 175. They yrurged that the bill for abolition of the bridge district be supported as well.

All seven members, including five supervisors, and two city representatives, Meyer and Mayor Edward W. Colthurst of Corte Madera, then voted to reaffirm support of AB 175 and SB 1012 and endorsed the abolition of the bridge district as the ultimate goal.

Auto Crashes Injures Three

Three San Rafael residents were injured yesterday in a three-car crash on Highway 101 north of San Rafael's Linden Lane.

Cars driven by Mary K. Ferdin, 29, of 862 Butternut Drive and Harold B. Huff, 23, of 2713 Heatherstone Drive, stopped in traffic at 10 a.m., the California Highway Patrol reported. But one driven by Juanita J. Peterson, 29, of 39 Novato Street, Apt. 315, struck the rear of Huff's car pushing it ahead into the Ferdin vehicle, patrolmen said.

Huff was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael for scrapes and bruises. Mrs. Peterson suffered knee scrapes and her son, Craig, 3, had a cut lower lip, but she told officers they would see their own doctor.

Stereophonic Tape Player Is Stolen

John J. Sweeney of 311 Vendola Drive reported to San Rafael police yesterday the theft of a stereophonic tape player, tapes and a radio from his auto while it was parked outside Terra Linda High School, where the youth is a student.

Sweeney said the items were worth $127. The theft occurred about noon, he said.

to drive it around the three stalled trucks. When his wheels hit the soft sand at the side of the tracks, the car bogged down again.

Brown pushed and he shoved until 5:30 a.m. yesterday, a full seven and a half hours after the car first became stuck.

Bone weary and frighteningly sober, he left the tunnel and called for a tow truck. But he fell asleep in a nearby car and he and the tow truck driver missed connections.

When he awoke at 8:30 a.m., he telephoned the NWP to report a traffic jam in their tunnel. He told agent K. E. Hawkins that his car became stuck in the tunnel.

After yesterday's interrogation, Shine reported, Brown "appeared quite relieved on giving the actual facts, stating that he would like to take care of any damages that may have been incurred."

Brown was booked on suspicion of joy riding and malicious mischief. He was released without bail and told to appear in court this afternoon for arraignment.

STUDENTS

Romania to seek prestige for France.

Students occupied classrooms and leaders called for the resignation of French Interior Minister Christian Fouchet and Paris Police Chief Maurice Grimaud because of "police brutality" during last week's riots.

Police were conspicously absent on direct orders from Premier Georges Pompidou who had ordered the Sorbonne reopened to try to pacify the students.

Students and workers camped inside the university demanded an hour's time on French television or—they threatened in a communique—they would seize and sabotage the government-owned Paris station.

Dazzled with the success of their march through Paris yesterday, thousands of students demanded sweeping education reforms.

WAR

the camp, which was abandoned over the weekend.

In the Saigon area, the mop-up of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces continued in the aftermath of the Communist offensive last week, and allied forces reported killing 226 enemy outside the capital yesterday.

The C130 in which there was such a large loss of life was shot down Sunday during the removal from Kham Duc of the camp's garrison of civilian irregulars, their families, the U.S. Green Beret troops who led them and South Vietnamese army troops stationed there.

The plane reportedly was hit as it was taking off, crashed into the side of a mountain and exploded.

An estimated 5,000 North Vietnamese troops had threatened to overrun the camp about 30 miles southwest of Da Nang, and U.S. planes evacuated nearly 1,700 allied troops and civilians.

Nineteen Americans were killed and 125 were wounded fighting a rear-guard action to cover the evacuation.

The U.S. Command said the camp would be moved to a new site.

Meanwhile from Moscow, the Viet Cong denied today it had anything to do with the Saigon deaths of four British and Australian newsmen in an ambush on May 5.

"This is a full and big lie," a representative for the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front said at a news conference.

Mill Valley Golf Club Repairs Put In Budget

The doors and foundation of the Municipal Golf Clubhouse should be repaired at an estimated cost of $3,220, the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission recommended last night.

The commission recommended the money be included in the 1968-69 budget, but did not ask for the estimated $3,000 required to paint the clubhouse. Cost figures were prepared by Building inspector Loren K. Rohde.

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala reported it would take $18,000 to properly fill the Edgewood Reservoir and provide erosion control. The reservoir was given the city by the Marin Municipal Water District. It would be a waste of money to do a partial job on the reservoir, Bala said, because the work would have to be done again later.

The commission named James Rutledge, Richard J. Young and Sarah Ann Davis as a committee to work on a three-year plan for the city's parks and golf course.

Commissioners agreed to bring recommendations to the May 27 meeting for changes in park use regulations. Discussion centered on group use of the parks, collection of fees, and the use of amplifiers by musical groups.

Postpones Session

The Sausalito Parks and Recreation Commission has postponed its meeting set for Thursday to 8 p.m. May 23 because no quorum was expected for this week. The commission will meet in the city council chambers.

TEACHER

did not concern themselves with the cassroom incident but rather with the manner in which Mrs. Tolbert was fired.

The major issue at point in Mrs. Tolbert's firing, according to Peter K. Nelson, president of the Rural Teachers Association, is whether Mrs. Tolbert is a substitute teacher or a probationary teacher.

She was hired in January to fill out the term of another teacher who retired. At that time, she signed a standard contract which states she is a probationary teacher with the district.

However, County Counsel Richard Godino, advising the school board, has ruled that the contract itself does not make Mrs. Tolbert a probationary teacher. Rather, he say, her credentials determine her status.

Mrs. Tolbert has provisional credentials which are issued to substitute or temporary teachers but not given to accredited teachers, according to Godino.

As a substitute Mrs. Tolbert can be fired without a hearing or any reason given. But if she is determined to be a probationary teacher, a hearing must be held with formal charges brought.

Mrs. Tolbert said today she has not decided whether she wants to hire an attorney and continue the fight. "What I want is a hearing on the original issue—the manner in which I handled the language incident," she says. "And I can only get it if I prove myself to be a probationary teacher."

Only two of the persons at the school board last night defended the board's actions. Others spoke for over two hours arguing that the board had improperly fired Mrs. Tolbert. No one touched on the key issue that started the whole thing—a "bad word" used by a sixth grade student.

San Rafael Council Drops Firing Move

No immediate dismissal resulted from a closed meeting of the San Rafael City Council last night, called to discuss dismissal of a city employee.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said councilmen had decided against firing the employee, whose name he did not disclose.

The University of Cordoba, the oldest in Argentina, was founded in 1613.

Various Budget Sessions Slated

It's budget time.

Marin's innumerable taxing districts are almost all in the process of preparing budgets which will determine what Marinites will pay.

Last year Marin residents paid $3,946,641 for the operation of special districts within the county. This amounted to 8 per cent of the property tax collected.

For the information of readers, the Independent-Journal is publishing dates, times and places when budgets will be discussed by various districts in the county. Since some of the hearings are tentative, it is suggested that citizens check with the districts involved about meetings scheduled.

In later issues of the Independet-Journal, school and city budget hearings will be listed.

Highway Skid Starts Series Of Accidents

One accident caused another yesterday on the San Rafel "flat" area of northbound Highway 101, causing minor injuries to four persons.

A car driven by Cornelia A. Skelly, 30, of El Cerrito, entered the freeway from Highway 17, braked on the wet road at 8:10 a.m. and spun into the guard rail, into the path of an oncoming car driven by Margaret A. Rose, 42, of 421 Montford, Avenue, Mill Valley, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Mrs. Rose was treated at Kaiser Hospital in San Rafael for face, nose and lip cuts. Cornelia Skelly suffered scraped knees, but told patrolmen she would see her own physician.

Before the two cars could be cleared from the fast lane, a group of five cars came around the curve, according to officers. Cars driven by Fabia A. Phillips, 35, of San Francisco; Gail W. Griselle, 26, of 934 West California Street, Novato, James H. Flanagan, 24, of Gate 5, Sausalito, and Sharon Gardiner, 18, of 35 Harbor Oak Drive, Corte Madera, stopped behind the first accident, patrolmen said.

But one driven by Morris J. Sun, 23, of San Francisco, crashed into the rear of the Gardiner vehicle, starting a chain-reaction collision, officers said.

Gail Griselle and Sharon Gardiner told patrolmen they would go to their own doctors for minor injuries.

pullback on both sides of the Demilitarized Zone between North and South Vietnam and described this as a "step towards broader measures of de-escalation."

The Communists were publicly scornful of the proposal and Thuy intimated he will deliver another broadside designed to demolish Harriman's opening speech when the conference reconvenes tomorrow morning. Harriman and Thuy agreed yesterday to a one-day respite to give each time to study the other's opening statement and to consult Washington and Hanoi.

There was no sign of any Communist readiness to compromise. North Vietnamese sources said Hanoi continues to demand an unconditional end to all bombing without any commitments on its own side to scale down the fighting.

The sources said Hanoi is unlikely to accept the U.S. proposal to pull back to both sides of the Demilitarized Zone, since this would be the same as admitting North Vietnamese troops were fighting in the south —something Hanoi has denied consistently.

North Vietnamese sources said Thuy and his delegation are studying the opening U.S. statement carefully but consider they are in a strong negotiating position.

No, Burton Not Council Member

No, George S. Burton has not been elected to the San Rafael City Council.

Through a composing room error, a story on the dispute over some aspects of the city recreation program in yesterday's Independent-Journal mentioned "George S. Burton, an auto salesman and successful candidate for city council last year."

The word should have been "unsuccessful." Burton ran last.

SPECTACULAR END TO OLD ROSS HOME

Only the outer shell of the old A. Crawford Green home at 1 Shady lane in Ross was left standing last night (see story page 1) as a blaze, seen from all over the Ross Valley, gutted the building. The house, over 60 years old, was in the process of being demolished when the fire broke out.

(Independent-Journal photo)

Trailer House Murders Trial Jury Sought

A 20-year-old Santa Rosa youth went on trial for his life in Marin Superior Court yesterday.

Jury selection began for Kenneth Allen Preston, one of two young men accused of a San Rafael double murder Jan. 12.

Curtis and Shirley Ackley, San Rafael barbers, were found in their Santa Venetia house trailer the morning of Jan. 13.

The man had been shot. Mrs. Ackley had been shot, strangled, stabbed anf raped.

Preston and Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, 24, both members of a Santa Rosa motorcycle gang called the Grim Reapers, were arrested a day later and charged with the murder.

After a 20-minute closed hearing yesterday, Judge Joseph G. Wilson ordered that the two be tried separately on the murder charges.

Basis for the judge's ruling was a Supreme Court decision which forbids the use of out-of-court statements by one defendant if they would be prejudicial to a co-defendant, on trial in the same court.

The trial began this morning with jury selections, which are expected to take at least two days. The trial should run approximately four weeks, according to Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

Sommerhalder's trial was continued until June 10.

Jury Picking For Herrera Trial Starts

Jury selection for the sanity trial of Joaquin Antonio Herrera, who wants to defend himself against a charge of murder, began in Marin Superior Court this morning.

Herrera, a 23-year-old El Salvador immigrant, contends that he is sane and innocent of a charge that he killed a San Rafael soldier Jan. 9.

His attorney, Deputy Public Defender Harold J. Truett, sought the sanity trial, claiming there are doubts as to whether Herrera understands the nature of the murder charge and is capable of cooperating with an attorney.

Herrera said he wants to be his own attorney, even though he only recently learned to read, write and speak English. Truett wants to delay his trial, he claims.

The one-week trial will be before Judge Alvin H. Goldstein, sitting in Superior Court. Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino will support Herrera in his contention that he is sane.

Patrick, Party Escape Injury In Hawaii Crash

William Penn Patrick, San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer, narrowly escaped injury Sunday when an airplane he had chartered crashed off Molokai in the Hawaiian Islands.

Patrick, and his wife, Mary, were aboard the eight-place Cessna with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pape, president of the cosmetics firm, and a third couple from Hawaii when one of its two engines failed on take-off from Maui.

The plane had been chartered from Royal Hawaiian Air Lines to take the party to Honolulu for the flight back to San Francisco, reported Patrick's executive secretary, Clay Barham.

None of the seven persons was injured when the plane pancaked into waist-deep water about 500 yards off Molokai. They were taken ashore by some youths who had been spear fishing in a canoe.

Bolinas Fire Budget Up; Taxes To Hold

The Bolinas Fire Protection District Commission last night adopted a preliminary budget of $15,069 for 1968-69, chairman Manuel S. Peters reported today. The budget this year was $12,750. Peters said the tax rate, 31 cents this year, should remain about the same.

The commission also recommended the Marin Board of Supervisors name Fire Chief Jose A. Silva as civil defense coordinator for the Bolinas area.

City Budget Talk Tonight In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley City Council will hold its first budget session at 7:30 p.m. today in the council chambers, taking up the operating budget, library budget, municipal golf course budget, and fund requests from community organizations.

The council will meet May 21 to take up employee salary requests and tackle City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer's three-way budget: an operating budget of $1,351,000, a progress budget of $147,996 and a capital projects budget of $777,750.

Balmer broke down the budget in a new way this year to separate items which can and can't be pared. The operating budget, he explained, is a housekeeping budget including only the employees, equipment and program already in effect.

The progress budget includes departmental request for additional employees, equipment and programs.

The capital projects budget lists the major construction and improvements recommended by staff.

This year's budget was $1.8 million, with a tax rate of $2.325 per $100 property valuation.

Balmer forecast that the total budget of $2,276,746 would require a tax rate of $3.33.

Crash Ties Up Freeway Six Hours

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After a six-hour shutdown, the major north-south highway here was cleared today of debris which showered down when a truck crashed into a pedestrian overpass at midnight yesterday.

The traffic pileup that resulted on the James Lick Freeway — U.S. 101 — was rated one of the city's worst. The California Highway Patrol said cars were backed up northward more than eight miles.

The overpass crashed to the road at midnight in a shower of concrete chunks and screeching metal. Cars skidded and came to a halt. Only two minor injuries were reported, one of them reportedly from falling concrete.

Officers said the lift mechanism of a dump truck hoisted out of control, snagging the 18th St. overpass, which was 14 feet above the roadway.

CHP officers and San Francisco police began routing traffic off the freeway at various access points.

Workmen and officers were under the gun to get the freeway open before the daily crush of traffic hit the city from Bay Area points.

Mime Theater Backed By Club

The Mill Valley Club of the Peace and Freedom Movement has criticized the city council's refusal to permit the San Francisco Mime Troupe to perform in Old Mill Park in Mill Valley Friday and Saturday and June 8 and 9.

The club said the council opposes the performances because the troupe's presentation reflects antiwar and pro-civil rights feelings.

The City of Mill Valley is to show cause in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow why the troupe should not be permitted to perform.

Junior Chamber Sets Installation Dinner

New officers of the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce will be installed at a dinner at 7:30 p.m. May 22 at the Tiburon Lodge, Tiburon. A cocktail hour will start at 7 p.m.

Mickey Mouse Loses Chance As A Write-In

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Write-in votes for such popular names as "Mickey Mouse" have been eliminated in California.

Gov. Ronald Reagan signed the measure to reform write-in voting on Thursday, and it is expected to save tens of thousands of tax dollars and many hours of unnecessary ballot counting.

County clerks and registrars formerly had to count all write-in names, even for fictional, whimsical and unintentional candidates.

The new law, however, requires write-in candidates to file an intention of candidacy at least five days before the June 4 primary election and to pay the regular filing fee for the office sought. The new law will apply to all elections thereafter.

Qualified candidates whose names appear on a primary election ballot still will have their write-in votes counted for his office even if they are entered on another party's ballot, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan said.

Hippie Shower Attempt Brings Jail Sentences

An attempt by two hippie girls to take a shower at the Woodacre Improvement Club brought three-day jail terms for two men and one of the girls in Marin Municipal Court yesterday.

A third man arrested on suspicion of trespassing was released when police learned he was a victim of circumstances. The second girl was taken to juvenile hall, when she admitted in court yesterday that she is 17 years old.

Sentenced to jail were Drusilla Ann Sutter, 19, of Chicago, Richard Bruce Anthony, 25, of San Francisco, and Kenneth James Dearborn, 22, of San Francisco.

Linda Susan Scott, who spent the weekend in jail because she gave her age as 18, was taken to juvenile court.

Dennis Edward Irish, 18, of 50 Merced Avenue, San Anselmo, was released without charges.

Irish said yesterday he was nearby when the girls were caught scaling a fence at the improvement club. They asked him to go to a cabin on Conifer Way, Woodacre, and tell Anthony and Dearborn they were bound for jail.

Deputies, though, first took the girls to the cabin. They found the hippies were living there without the permission of the owner and added more trespassing charges.

Irish, who was there as a good samaritan, was also arrested.

Sausalito School Staffers Ask 15 Per Cent Pay Hike

Classified employees of the Sausalito School District last night requested a 15 per cent salary boost for 1968-69.

The employees also asked the district to pay for full health and dental benefits, including prescriptions, and asked that salaries be linked to a cost of living scale based on federal and state cost indexes for the Bay Area.

The school trustees, passed the salary proposal on to the negotiating council without action. Supt. Philip W. Schnieder said today no estimate has been worked out on the cost of the proposed raises.

Major basis for the request by the non-teaching employees was increased living costs. The classified employees did not get a cost of living raise last year.

Three student leaders at Richardson Bay School asked the board to rename the school in honor of Martin Luther King Jr. Student Council President Kit Bailey, vice president Martha Sessions and Secretary-treasurer Jeff Craig presented 30 letters from the student body and their own request for the change.

After favorable comment from the board and the audience, trustees put the proposal on the May 27 agenda for action.

Sausalito School District Board Also:

Airport Runway Extension, Lights Plan On Agenda

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost will discuss the design and construction schedule for the Marin County Airport runway extension and lighting at tomorrow night's meeting of the Marin County Aviation Commission.

The meeting is set for 8 o'clock in the planning commission chambers, Civic Center.

The Federal Aviation Administration approved $61,878 in federal funds for the runway and taxiway extensions and airfield lighting.

Commissioner Benjamin R. Ostlind will discuss development of a parallel runway for civilian use at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Airport Manager Francis E. Torr will report that the FAA has approved use of a tetrahedon (four sided, dart-like figure that gives wind direction), which Torr received from Hamilton. Torr will also give a progress report on the operations at the airport, north of Novato, and methods of applying to FAA for a control tower.

Candidates' Night Session Is Thursday

A meeting of senior citizens to which all supervisorial candidates have been invited was erroneously announced by the Marin Senior Coordinating Council for tomorrow.

Houston Patient In Grave Condition

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The condition of one of the world's five surviving heart transplant patients—earlier reported improving—has turned from serious to grave, and hospital personnel remained at his bedside today in Houston, Tex.

The other four heart recipients all were reported in good shape, although doctors gave little further information on the latest patient, a Dominican priest operated on Sunday in Paris. Clerical sources said Rev. Charles Boulogne had been unable to work or write for the last year and had pleaded for a transplant.

Doctors at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital in Houston said the condition of John Stuckwish, 62, of Alpine, Tex., became grave yesterday afternoon.

The doctors have said Stuckwish, a hospital administrator, was dying when he received last Tuesday the heart of Clarence Nicks, 32, a Houston welder fatally injured in a tavern fight April 23. A legal fight has arisen over prosecution of two youths charged in Nicks' death.

The hospital said Stuckwish's condition became critical last Thursday but improved Friday and on Sunday was serious but improving.

A team headed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed three transplants in one week at St. Luke's. One patient died within three days, but Everett C. Thomas, 48, a Phoenix, Ariz., accountant, is able to walk and turn himself in bed without assistance 11 days after his operation.

In London, Frederick West, 45, was reported "making good progress" with the heart he received 11 days ago.

Sausalito Library Budget Higher; Gifts Accepted

The Sausalito Library Board last night approved a proposed budget of $43,847 for 1968-69 to be presented to the city council. This year's budget was $39,674.

The increases are in salary hikes and a requested boost in the book budget to buy reading materials for young adults.

The board acknowledged three memorial gifts — a memorial fund in memory of Courtney Snodgrass to buy children's books, two books for the journalism collection in memory of Marian Wands, and books to be presented by Friends of the Library in memory of Mrs. Libby Wax.

The board approved printing of a book plate designed for library use picturing the Sausalito seal and the outline of Mount Tamalpais.

It was announced all library materials will now circulate for 14 days.

Restaurant Sign Feud Continues

The Novato Planning Commission last night went against the wishes of the Novato City Council and the approval of the plan review committee in its consideration of a sign for Denny's restaurant on Highway 101, south of Grant Avenue.

It cut down on the size and heighth of a sign it would allow the restaurant, according to Warren Baker, assistant planning director.

The city council had indicated that it would allow a 96-square-foot sign where Harold Butler Enterprises Inc., owners of Denny's chain, had asked for a 124-square-foot sign. The plan review committee approved a 96-square-foot sign. No more than 14 feet high.

The planning commission last night would approve only a 64-square-foot sign, 12 feet in heighth, according to Baker.

The vote was 4-1 with Robert G. Johnson against the reduced sign area.

"The commission felt that if it allowed the larger sign, it would lose control of all future signs on the highway," Baker said.

The appeal on the sign is scheduled before the council meeting at 8 p.m. today in Novato Community House.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

APARTMENT — Referred to the plan review committee the application of Walter Kieckhefer to construct 117-unit apartment complex on approximately nine acres south of Ignacio Boulevard across from the Pacheco Plaza Shopping Center. It set May 27 as the public hearing on rezoning from planned community to multiple family, this same parcel of land.

TREE — Gave Russell Zenk permission to cut down an elm tree in the back yard of his home at 1140 Elm Drive.

A Case Of Planning Delayed Too Long

The Novato City Council has voted to seek state and federal aid for a study on how to upgrade Novato's "weak and diffuse downtown area."

This happened last week — May, 1968.

Seven years ago — May, 1961 — the commercial planning committee of Novato's citizen master plan committee, headed by Joseph H. Wright, presented a report which said in part:

"The commercial area consists of a poorly organized downtown business district and, except for some individual businesses, one organized shopping center.

"There is a great deal too much land zoned commercial in areas that show no indication of developing within a reasonable time. There is not enough land zoned commercial in the areas where immediate growth is needed."

THE SOLUTION proposed by Wright's committee was: concentrate commercial development in the downtown, east and west of Highway 101 from Olive Avenue to Sixth Street, "the logical location."

Most of the neighborhood shopping centers then shown on the North Marin Master Plan should be eliminated, the committee declared.

The following month, Mary Summers, then county planning director, appeared before the Novato City Council to take sharp issue with the citizen committee. She said the old downtown area could not be revived unless it were "wiped out" and a fresh start made with redevelopment funds. Trying to develop it otherwise, she declared, would "produce nothing but an octopus short of shape for a future shopping district."

Her solution: a regional shopping center somewhere else, with various neighborhood shopping centers. For a regional center, she proposed the Crossroads Center at Highway 101 and South Novato Boulevard.

THE UPSHOT of this difference of opinion was that the city council decided a few months later to have the Marin County Planning Department prepare a master plan for the city.

That turned out to be a five-year project. The plan was received late last year. In the meantime, the following shopping centers were added in Novato — besides commercial area set aside in the San Marin master plan:

Novato Fair, at Diablo Avenue, Novato Boulevard and Highway 101; Tresch Triangle, at Novato Boulevard, Diablo Avenue and Center Road; Novak Center, at Novato Boulevard and Wilson Avenue.

There also was further commercial rezoning on Center Road. There were additions by rezoning to Nave and Novato Fair centers. And just this year, 13 acres on Highway 101 were rezoned for auto sales.

One shopping center in the area never got off the drawing boards, however: the proposed Crossroads Center for which Mrs. Summers held such high hope.

NOW, THE NOVATO City council apparently agrees with what Mary Summers said in 1961: that the downtown is beyond hope without a redevelopment project.

Certainly, it is in worse state now than when Wright's committee noted that Novato had only one shopping center: the Nave Center.

Might the plan proposed by the citizen committee in 1961 have saved the downtown by cutting off additional shopping centers?

This leads to another question, which is important to other Marin communities besides Novato:

Wherein is professional planning assistance of value if it takes so long to produce a plan that the predicted evils have occurred before the plan is presented?

Another Reason

We doubt that any Marinite in this enlightened age would be so profligate as to cut down every tree on his place. But just in case someone is considering such a course, scientists have verified still another reason why it should not be done.

Besides the prevention of erosion and the organic plant food produced by the trees, they cut down on leaching by absorbing water and releasing it through their leaves. Without trees, the water runs off and leaches the soil of nitrogen. Cutting everything also alters the microbiology of the soil in a way that favors quicker conversion of organic materials into soluble nitrates. This adds to the leaching effect.

Woodman, spare that tree.

BLESSINGS TO BE SHARED

In about 10 years America, with only 10 per cent of the earth's population, will be using a much larger percentage of the world's natural resources.

"The rest of the world," warned California conservationist Hugo Fisher, "is going to take a dim view" of this type of consumption.

He stated that foothill canyons are being filled with refuse, bays choked with garbage, highways lined with junked cars and discarded containers, forests denuded and beaches stripped of sand.

Mr. Fisher called for efforts to establish a harmonious balance with nature, not only for wildlife but for the good of man himself.

Millions now living in extreme poverty look to those who are far better off to give them the basic economic and technical assistance that will enable them to become self-supporting.

Show gratitude to God for abundance by using it with care. And see to it that those in need have their rightful share of the good thinks of life.

"Your abundance at the present time should supply their want." (2 Corinthians 8:14)

May I show appreciation for all You do for me, Father, by showing concern for those in dire need.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

May 14, 1958

Fairfax Fire Chief Charles Thornton took on the additional job of city street superintendent, at a salary increase of $100 a month.

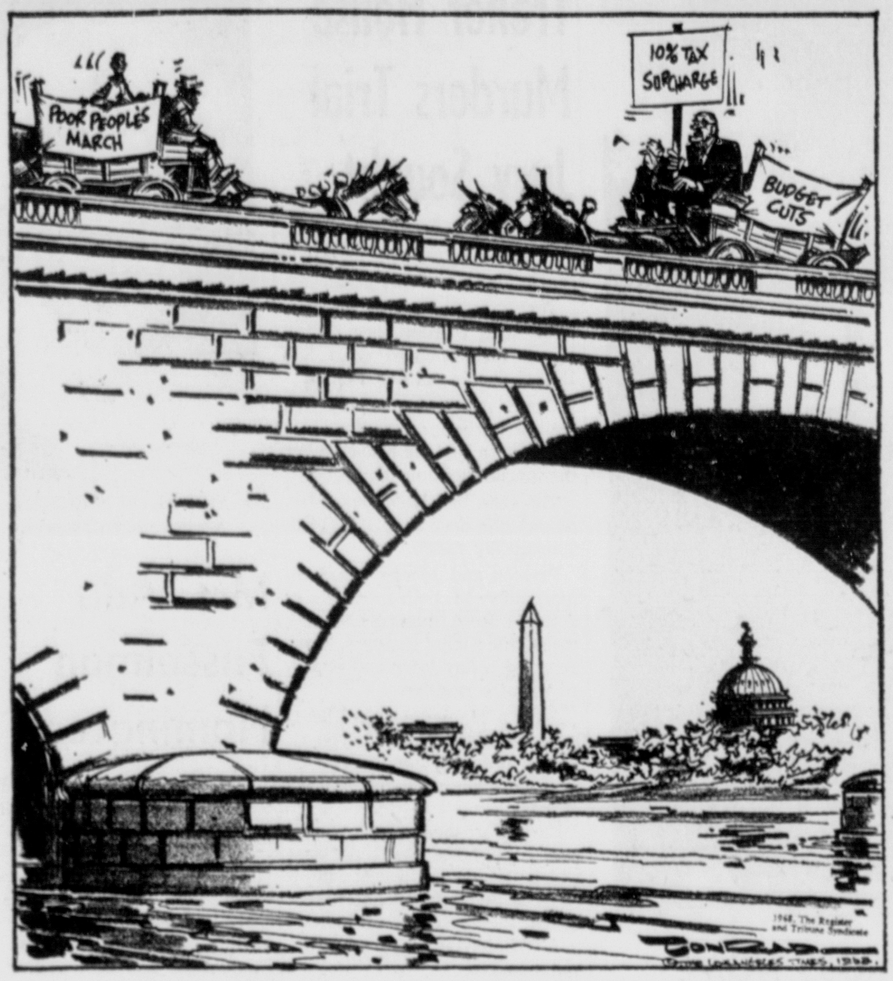
The garbage pickup fee in the Novato Sanitary District was increased from $1.20 to $1.50 a month.

20 YEARS AGO

May 14, 1948

San Rafael Mayor Robert F. Austin said approval of a $950,000 sewer bond issue by the voters was necessary to insure continued growth of the city.

Miss Della Davidson, member of a pioneer Marin family, resigned as principal of Short School after more than 30 years as a San Rafael schoolteacher.



WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Dog Poisoning Appalls Soldier

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I received my 19 April 1968 copy of the Independent-Journal yesterday, and on page 25 saw the news item pertaining to strychnine-poisoned food which someone is spreading in the McAllister Avenue-Berens Drive section of Kentfield.

I am appalled that there is such a low-down, despicable individual presumably living in my family's neighborhood who is endangering the lives of my children and my neighbors' children, as well as our pets. I am now in Vietnam and I am unable to actively participate in ferreting out this reprehensible person.

I suggest that you start a campaign which will lead to the identification, arrest and conviction of the individual responsible for these criminal actions.

More Discussion Of Fairfax Bonds

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mayor (Robert R.) Souza, upon receiving a challenge at the April 29 Fairfax City Council meeting, stated that he could not find the time to debate the city bond issue prior to June 4. Therefore, we find ourselves in the position of having to reply to his letters through the newspaper.

We would like to elaborate on a few points raised in Mayor Souza's letter to the Independent-Journal, April 30.

The county planning department, who acted as consultants for the city's general plan, did not formally recommend any site for the new facilities. However, the Citizens Committee on Police, Fire and City Hall Facilities (on which Mr. Souza was a member) reported to the city council April 1, 1967, that "present and future space requirements indicate that facilities for all city services (police, fire and general administration) cannot be accommodated on the present site bound by Park and Bolinas Roads." They further indicated that "remodeling of existing facilities would, in the final analysis, be uneconomical and a waste of public funds."

The Sherman bypass route which does not go down Napa or Dominga was suggested initially by the architect and later accepted by the county planning staff. It was unanimously approved by the city countil, including Mr. Souza, as part of the general plan. The major reason for this new street is to provide a route for traffic going to areas east of Fairfax, and therefore relieve congestion on Bolinas Road. This route was chosen as the least disruptive to established residential neighborhoods.

The committee wishes to state again that the Phillips 66 Service Station will not be taken for either the firehouse or the widening of Sherman Avenue and is not included in the bond issue. The firehouse will be set back far enough to provide proper and adequate access for fire apparatus. . . .

In today's column "Ten Years Ago," it was noted "a new general plan for Fairfax envisioned a civic center with . . . new city hall." Had the city not ignored the need for these facilities 10 years ago, they could have been built at half of today's costs. Do we want to procrastinate for another 10 years? If not now, when?

There Is No Place For These Things

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I want to quote from and respond to your "double standard" editorial.

You state: (1) Everyone who condones a double standard based on color is a racist. (2) There is no place in democratic America for special treatment for anyone based on skin color, religion, or antecedents.

Before you judge and point the finger, investigate, investigate, the roots of anger — look carefully and search for answers.

Consider at least these questions:

(1) Do you find no evidence of more suspicious or harsher police treatment because a man is black?

(2) Do you find no evidence of special license — such as tax loopholes, profiteering at government expense, income tax evasion — accepted for the rich but forbidden to the poor?

(3) Do you find no evidence of differential quality in education between rich and poor — education, historically the gateway to opportunity?

(4) Do you find no evidence of prolonged humiliation and trampled pride bearing down on both the poor and the black?

Yes, even here in marvelous Marin.

(5) Mr. Editor, are you blind?

Shocking Experience At San Quentin

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have somehting I must say. I shall attempt to tell it the way it was.

This morning I was working in a maximum security discipline section at San Quentin as a correctional officer. During a slack moment my supervising sergeant, knowing I had experience working in the building housing Death Row 2, asked me how many inmates were now there. I told him the 70 (plus) inmates had been divided between 1 and 2 and that probably as that number increased they would have to use new space. He said he had the solution. (I hesitated to ask what it was because I had heard these "solutions" before.) His was unique in its simplicity and rapid results. He figured the gas chamber would hold about 20 at a time. With the help of a good crew and a truck he could clear the row in a day. The picture was clear because I had seen pictures of Nazi Buchenwald and Auschwitz. I sat stunned. I wanted to get up and leave that man and place, but my feelings of duty kept me at the post. I had no reply. I went home at watch change shocked by his verbalization of a common opinion.

At home this experience worked on me until I had to get it out with someone. Warden Louis S. Nelson seemed the person to see. He is a sensible, forceful man. I told him what had happened and he thought (or hoped) it was just big talk. He said that no staff member would machine gun down the men on Death Row if given a chance. But he did admit that if the courts decide California's method of execution is constitutional then we would have 10 to 12 dates come up in a few weeks. I knew then I would have to leave San Quentin. It occurred to me that the majority in California wills that we gas those seventy men as rapidly as possible. The law as it stands lends its respectability to the basest tendencies I have ever heard men openly voice.

I have no argument with the fact these men deserve punishment. But what it does to you and to me to gas them is crucial. These are times for "reverence for life." The human spirit needs more than a seal of approval on the gas chamber. The courts may take care of our conscience for us. Then again they may set us up for a blood bath. Two thousand years of Christian ethic cries out to us to change the law concerning capital punishment. Let us start today.

Respect Our Laws And Each Other

Editor, Independent-Journal:

May I compliment you on your editorial of May 2 regarding "Racists and Double Standards." I believe that you have courageously and factually stated the feeling of most Americans who are deeply concerned for their country's future.

When you have something as precious as our Constitution you must not only support its guarantees but you must exercise and protect those guarantees within the framework of the laws which it makes possible.

Destroying our cities, disrupting our schools, defiling our law enforcement agencies and delivering supplies to our enemies is as deadly as revealing our national defense plans to Peking or Moscow.

I wholeheartedly echo your plea to solve our problems in America, as Americans, respecting our Constitution, our laws and each other.

Which Should Politicians Believe— Primaries Or Opinion Polls?

WASHINGTON — Both political parties may well have to make the kind of choice they don't relish: whether to nominate the champion of the primaries or the champion of the opinion polls.

The results in Indiana, which provided the first direct contest between Senators Robert Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy, show Kennedy is stronger among Democratic voters and that Richard Nixon is well favored by Republican voters there.

Vice President Humphrey is not being tested in the primaries because he announced too late to get in.

The opinion polls show a different verdict from the primaries. They show that with all voters — Democratic, Republican, and independent — Humphrey would be the strongest of the possible Democratic nominees and that Nelson Rockefeller would have a better chance of being elected than Nixon.

It would not be at all surprising to see this trend continue.

AT THE VERY moment Kennedy won the Indiana primary — comfortably but not overwhelmingly — the Harris survey showed that Kennedy's national rating with all voters was declining and Humphrey's strength was increasing.

At the very moment Nixon — who was unopposed — got a resounding vote of confidence by Republicans in Indiana of 100,000 more votes than he got under similar circumstances in 1960, the Harris poll showed Rockefeller running better against all Democrats than Nixon.

The verdict of the opinion polls could shift, but at this stage the factors which shape voter opinion may prove to be pretty stable.

Obviously winning the Indiana primary, even in a three-way split of the vote, is useful for Bobby. But it isn't the kind of decisive victory which is likely to create a bandwagon, nor is it likely to persuade the big-state Democratic leaders that they have got to ditch their favorite, Humphrey, to win the election in November.

THERE ARE TWO crucial differences between the primaries and the opinion polls. The polls reflect a cross-section of all voters in every state while the primaries reflect a limited number of a candidate's own party in a few states.

This is why party leaders attach great weight to the polls and this is why both Kennedy and Nixon, at present at least, are being hurt by the polls.

The latest Harris survey, for example, shows that Kennedy is the only Democrat to trail Nixon and that, nationwide and despite what the Indiana primary suggests, Bobby runs behind Humphrey as the preferred choice among Democrats. Indeed, he runs quite far behind, with the vice president getting 38 per cent and Kennedy getting only 27 per cent of the Democratic vote. And in trial heats Nixon defeats Kennedy 40 to 38 per cent, while Humphrey defeats Nixon 38 to 36 per cent, with George Wallace and the undecided vote accounting for the remainder.

THE POLLS ALSO show Rockefeller running stronger than Nixon. He runs eight-points ahead of Kennedy while Nixon runs only two points ahead of Kennedy. Nixon trails McCarthy by 3 per cent and Rockefeller leads McCarthy by 2 per cent. Both lose to Humphrey by 2 per cent.

The next two primaries — today in Nebraska and May 28 in Oregon — may be revealing.

In a poll answered by 137 Democratic members of Congress, Humphrey led Kennedy by 4 to 1, and a similar number of Republican congressmen voted 41 to 37 per cent for Rockefeller over Nixon.

It looks like open conventions in both Miami Beach and Chicago.

Czechs On New Course: Communism But Freedom

By PETER REHAK

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — "Novotny is an idiot. If he were here, I would like to kick him," a man in dark glasses shouts into a microphone. He is a former political prisoner.

A young student reads a 1924 essay by Czech writer Karel Capek, entitled "Why I Am Not a Communist." It condemns communism as a power-hungry movement for the benefit of a few.

The scene is Prague's Old Town Square, where a crowd of 5,000 has assembled to air beefs over a public address system lent by the city.

Not a policeman is in sight.

"THREE MONTHS ago, the police would have charged in here and thrown all of us in the clink" says a young man.

This is Prague, the capital of Communist Czechoslovakia, three months after the ouster of Antonin Novotny as the country's president and Communist party chief.

Novotny's successors, party chief Alexander Dubcek, Premier Oldrich Cernik and President Ludvik Svoboda, have launched the country on a liberal course unmatched in any other Communist country.

The new course is in evidence everywhere.

PRESS CENSORSHIP has been lifted. Every day the newspapers are filled with stories of mental and physical tortures in Stalinist jails.

People in the streets, in cafes and in the aging streetcars discuss and criticize everything and anything.

"Democracy and liberalization" is the motto of the day.

Downtown bookstores display pictures of Thomas Garrigue Masaryk, the country's first president, whom previous Communist regimes tried to strike from the history books. Pictures of his son Jan, Czechoslovakia's last non-Communist foreign minister, are on sale on Vaclavske Namesti, Prague's main square.

The new government's probe into Jan Masaryk's mysterious death in 1948 is the No. 1 topic of conversation in the crowded sidewalk cafes.

THE MOOD is buoyant, but many ask, "Will it last?" and "What will happen next?"

Most seem to think there is no turning back.

The new leadership still faces some high hurdles. It badly needs a hard currency credit to get the rundown economy going. It must avoid aggravating Moscow and, if the present course is to continue, it must oust some 40 conservative members from the party's 110-member ruling presidium.

Joint Efforts To Replace Big Spending On Novato's Parks

The method of acquiring and developing parks in Novato was fairly well settled last week at the joint meeting of the city council and the parks and recreation commission.

It appears that the parks will be constructed with city plans and some city financing, and a lot of volunteer labor and materials. Parks will not be financed by a large bond issue.

The history of parks in Novato — what few there are — would tend to bear out that this is the most successful formula. The Lions Park on Novato Creek below Stafford Dam was constructed by the Lions Club on land belonging to the North Marin County Water District. It was turned over to the city, which has further improved it.

The tot lot at Railroad and Olive avenues was built by the Rotary Club on land owned by the Novato Sanitary District and turned over to the city.

Arroyo Avichi Park was constructed basically by the city with some private contributions. The parkette at Highway 101 and Grant Avenue was constructed by the city with funds donated by the Novato Civic Foundation and the Kiwanis Club on land owned by the state Division of Highways.

SERVICE CLUBS and the Novato Civic Foundation have stood by ready to assist in park development, waiting the outcome of the park bond issue at the special election earlier this year.

At that election, the street bond issue for $5,750,000 drew a 55 per cent favorable vote and the $2,250,000 park bond issue drew only 42 per cent favorable vote.

During the discussion between the council and commission last week, it was quite clear that the council did not favor submitting another park bond issue to the public.

Councilmen indicated they would try to budget some funds next fiscal year for development of Pioneer Memorial Park.

The Novato Civic Foundation, which was formed to get parks for the city, offered work and materials on the development of that park in the amount of $30,000. So to get the work started, the council authorized spending $8,000 for first phase plans to be drawn by Ribera and Sue, landscape architects. Total cost of the plans was estimated at $19,000.

THE INITIAL PLANS are to be submitted to the commission on June 3 and to the public on June 10.

Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, said his department would design the street frontage. The department has done considerable work, clearing brush, trimming trees and making other minor imporvements.

It looks now as though Pioneer Memorial Park will soon be a useful asset to the community.

Radar-Topped Medusa Curls, Flee – And Give Us Back The Girls

Down through the years in my perennial peregrinations I've been an inveterate observer of life's finer endowments; a connoisseur, if you will, of the flowing line, the delicate curve, the richness and subtlety of color, the divine . . . well, what I really am is a girl-watcher.

My first day in school I was mesmerized by a maddening beauty across the aisle flouncing a mass of blonde and sausage curls. I've never been the same. Since that initial exquisite shock, I've been a man possessed, an addict of the worst sort . . . the word, I think, is "hooked." There's no cure. At least, so I thought until recently.

SOMETHING HAS happened to dull the edge, to fade the bloom, to deaden the drive . . . and unfortunately enough, it has been precipitated by the fair ones themselves.

Delicacy would have me stay my hand, but honesty compels me to speak.

In these unrestful times I have been met, during my girl-watching forays, with the not uncommon eye-popping spectacle of ponderous perambulating pulchritude poured into pants . . . the stretch kind. As if this were not enough, they come in glowing pink, fluorescent green, metallic yellow, or some such, stunning the senses.

To further torpify the mind, there has been added another horror . . . a crown of three-inch curlers, mounted on the pinnacle in perfect symmetrical design, presenting a science-fiction version of a revolving radar antenna.

THE VISION strains to the limit the virtue of sorbriety.

Without being pressed, I could be readily convinced the ladies sporting these cylindrical appendages are picking up signals from distant planets or transmitting secret coded messages to spy rings of unfriendly nations.

The delights of girl-watching have been mine in almost every city of our broad land. The visages of exotic femininity have crossed my bedazzled gaze in countries afar . . . frail, doll-like kimonoed Oriental lovelies . . . regal and haughty Latin beauties . . . glossy, golden brown Polynesian charmers . . . but never, ever, anywhere, have my sensibilities been so rudely assaulted as by the awesome apparition of orange juice cans stacked atop a female dome, bringing back memories of a pack mule of my acquaintance top-heavily burdened with rolls of chicken wire.

In supermarkets and saloons, in drug stores and department stores, these modern Medusas are at large. Once, during a thunderstorm, I dodged into the sanctuary of a doorway only to be joined by an elaborately rollered Aphrodite whose proximity filled me with dread that her cephalic superstructure might attract a bolt of lightening.

THERE IS NO excape, no place to hide.

In their own fashion, men have always been awed by women . . . sometimes admired them, secretly, of course . . . and occasionally, even loved them. The mystique surrounding the ladies has always been their greatest source of power, their "singing sword" of invincibility, their Excalibur.

With a demoralizing and deglamorizing bundle of rollers perched upon their noggin, however, mysticism becomes tarnished, mystery just another jejune "who-dun-it."

I'm almost tempted to tear up my membership card to the International Order of Girl-Watchers . . . almost.

YMCA Camp Activities Announced

A wide variety of outdoor activities is planned again this summer for the three sessions of the Marin Young Men's Christian Association day camp for boys 7 to 12 years old.

Transportation to the camp, which is located on the three and a half wooded acres surrounding the YMCA building at 241 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael, is provided.

According to camp officials, the approximately 300 boys attending each session are divided into small groups for activities such as hikes, games, collecting nature materials, crafts and also outings to places like Nicasio Reservoir and the beach.

Two-week sessions will start June 24, July 8, and July 22 and the fee for each session is $30, which covers insurance, program supplies and daily milk. A limited number of camperships is available, and boys may also earn all or part of the fee by selling cans of peanuts, according to YMCA officials.

Registration for the camp may be made now with the YMCA.

Azevedo Coffees

Margaret Azevedo, candidate for Marin County supervisor in the Third District, will speak at the following public coffees: 8 p.m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Berry, 29 Burgess Court, Marin City; 2 p.m. Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kahl, 409 East Strawberry Point, Strawberry; 8 p.m. May 22 at the home of Mr and Mrs. Edward Parnell, 8 Felipe Court, Tiburon, and 8 p.m. May 23 at the home of Donald Bowden, 30 Excelsior Lane, Sausalito.

VFW Post Sets Installation Of New Officers

Arthur E. Wedemeyer Jr. will be installed as commander of Tamalpias Post 72 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a joint installation with the Ladies Auxiliary at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Portuguese-American Hall, San Rafael.

Other new officers include James F. Von Bima, senior vice commander; Willard T. McDonald, junior vice commander; Fred Helberg, quartermaster; Irving F. Blabon, adjutant; Robert I. McPherson, chaplain; Kenneth Constable, post advocate.

Thomas Penders, officer of day; James V. Burdick, service officer; James D. Irey, surgeon; John Zarlingo, Charles A. Grief and Ray Genardini, trustees; James D. Shelley, guard, Richard M. Sims Jr., legislative, and Rocerick P. Pierson, assistant adjutant.

Ragna McPherson will be installed as auxiliary president.

Novatan Pleads Guilty In Attack

Bryce Lawrence MacMillan Jr. of Novato, charged with attacking two Sausalito police officers during a barroom fracas Dec. 17, pleaded guilty to a charge of felony assault in Marin Superior Court today.

The district attorney dropped two charges of assault on a police officer. MacMillan was told to report to the probation office and return to court June 17 for sentencing.

He was accused of kicking and striking Sausalito patrolmen Steven Willis and Thomas Zink as they removed him from the Two Turtles Bar.

Willis collapsed and required treatment at Marin General Hospital after taking MacMillan to the police station.

a new Chevrolet like this

If things like head, shoulder and leg room are important to you, take a close look at the new Chevrolet.

Automotive News did—and its 1968 Roominess Index shows Chevrolet is the second most spacious of all American sedans.

The roomiest? That distinction, we're not at all embarrassed to admit, goes to America's most popular luxury car.

Based on the Roominess Index, which totals seven key interior dimensions to the fraction of an inch, Chevrolet's 4-door sedan scored 290.7. A tenth of a point behind the 4-door luxury model.

A pretty good showing when you consider how much more the expensive model sells for. And some of the other cars Chevrolet topped carry just as impressive price tags.

But that's just a sample of the pluses you get at a Chevrolet price. You'll find a lot more of them in the fine things Chevrolet has designed around all that space.

Drop down to your dealer's and bring the family. This one's a real crowd-pleaser.

BY NEW COUNCIL

No Confidence Vote On Center

The $550,000 bond issue for a new Fairfax police-administration building and a new fire station, was at least winged, if not definitely shot down last night by the new city council. The council voted 3-2 disapproval of the proposal, put on the June 4 ballot by the previous city council.

Councilman Francis J. O'Connell, who said he wouldn't be against building a new fire station at a later date, introduced the motion declaring the council didn't think much of the matter going to the voters.

MUCH CONFUSION

"There is too much confusion about this proposal," said O'Connell. "The voters will get only the comments of the last council. The plan is too complicated, and the complex will disrupt the whole downtown area."

Mayor Robert R. Souza, who joined with O'Connell and Councilman Cornelis Van Vleit in the vote of no confidence, said one of his big objections to it is the expensive access roads which would be prepared to accommodate the fire station, proposed for the corner of Sherman Avenue and Bolinas Road.

He said it would cost $377,000 to build a Sherman Avenue extension.

Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson and Frank J. Egger, members of the council which put the civic center complex on the ballot, were on the short end of the vote.

"Councils and candidates have stated for years we must help downtown Fairfax," said Egger. "What has been done? Nothing of any importance until now.

"We can lend an air of distinction to downtown Fairfax. We have gathered the facts and presented them to the voters. No city council can decide. The taxpayers must decide on June 4."

"I have been waiting five years for something to happen along this line," said Councilman Wilson, a strong supporter of the civic center complex. Our city employees are working in one of the worst buildings in the county and are working at the lowest pay in the county."

Mayor Souza said he disapproved of one surprise event of the evening, a resolution from the Fairfax Parks and Recreation Commission, which, while it did not approve of the bond issue, did not disapprove of it, either.

IN POLICY FIELD

The resolution was a sleeper, pushed through at the last parks and recreation commission meeting by member Stanley Little in the absence of the parks and recreation chairman, Richard P. Jones, who said he didn't think Little should have done it, because it put parks and recreation in the policy field.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

DEBATE — Heard a brief debate between Second District supervisorial candidates Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Peter R. Arrigon, former Fairfax councilman. Using the same sets of figures as points of departures, each accused the other of being a big spender.

GARBAGE — Received from Fairfax Garbage Disposal a request for a 25-cent per month rate increase and a 10 year extension of the firm's contract which would extend to 1982. Fairfax garbage bills are now $2 a month in the lowlands and $2.50 in the hills. The city attorney was directed to draw a contract incorporating the company's petition, but increasing the city's take from $265 a month to a flat 5-and-one-half per cent of the gross.

PARKS — Received from Parks and Recreation Director Ronald Samet notification that he will not continue his half time job after the summer program is completed. Samet suggested the city hire a director on a three-quarter time basis.

SHORT STOP — Set a special meeting of the city council for 6 p.m. Friday at the Fairfax Women's Club, to consider what action the city should take if neighbors of the Short Stop Market are still complaining they're kept awake by the market's refrigeration machine. The market has made several attempts to muffle the noise, but jittery neighbors complain they can still hear it.

VARIANCE — Overruled the Fairfax Planning Commission and granted a variance to Mr. and Mrs. James T. Wenster for a non-conforming carport at their residence, 28 Soring Lane. The planning commission withdrew the variance, because the Wensters refused to put a drainage culvert under their driveway.

CONGRESS — Mayor Souza announced that the project committee for a proposed Congress for Community Progress will hold its first meeting on June 17. The congress, proposed for January 1969, will be a Fairfax version of the San Anselmo Town Meeting.

No Action By Fairfax On Sumbardo

The Fairfax City Council took no action last night on the future of City Mgr. David J. Sumbardo in a late-hour discussion of "complaints about him" held behind closed doors.

"It was a good healthy discussion," according to Mayor Robert R. Souza, who said that the executive session which began about 11:15 p.m. lasted two hours.

"There were quite a number of complaints which we went over with the city manager," he added.

Souza said that an ordinance prohibits taking action on Sumbardo's job within 90 days after an election. (The city held an election on April 9.)

The closed session last night was requested by Vice Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet, who said he had been told Sumbardo was telling people he would be out of a job in July.

Postal Garage Contract Given

A contract has been awarded to Terry L. and Doris L. Phillips for a new garage to be built for the Post Office in San Rafael, Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson has announced.

They will lease the building to the post office for 20 years, he said, with renewal options running through 30 years. Preliminary estimates indicate that the initial investment will be about $170,200.

The garage will be located on the north side of Simms Street.

Walks away from prison

Marin Bandit Walks Away From Camp

Robert W. Lawrence, 40, who was the gun wielder in a holdup of the Bermuda Palms Motel by three men in 1962, walked away from the Black Mountain Prison Camp in Sonoma County early Saturday.

Lawrence was serving a five years to life sentence for the San Rafael motel holdup, in which three men got $367 in cash and checks.

Lawrence and two other men were seized in a car by San Rafael police a few minutes after the robbery. One of the men was found innocent in a Superior Court trial, but Lawrence and a second man, Dale Rollo Frost, 33, were convicted.

Directors Back Merger Of Banks

A plan to merge Redwood National Bank and Lincoln National Bank under the charter of Redwood National Bank has been approved in principle by the directors of both banks.

News of the proposed merger was received in a joint announcement by Gordon H. Dohemann, chairman of the board of Lincoln National, and Byron Leydecker, president of Redwood National. Under the contemplated agreement, Redwood National would issue cash and securities for all of the outstanding stock of Lincoln National.

The merger is still subject to approval of the U.S. Department of Justice, the comptroller of the currency and by the shareholders of both banks. It is expected that a special meeting of shareholders will be called following approval by the government agencies.

Under the consolidation the band would have resources in excess of $34 million and facilities in Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties.

Redwood National, headquartered at Fourth and E streets, San Rafael and with resources of over $26 million, maintains branches in Napa and Vallejo. Lincoln National has its headquarters in Santa Rosa and a branch office at 888 Fourth Street, San Rafael. Its resources are approximately $8 million.

Delaware is known as the Diamond State.

Enclosing Garage Will Be Studied

Application of Milton S. Cohen for permission to enclose an existing garage for additional living space and to build a carport at his home, 266 Sausalito Street, is scheduled for study by the Corte Madera Board of Adjustments tomorrow.

The board meets at 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall.

Kettenhofen Sessions

Public receptions for Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who is seeking reelection to a second term, will be held at 8 p.m. today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Deedy, 255 West End Avenue, San Rafael, and from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Graham, 833 Fawn Drive, Sleepy Hollow.

Bay Ferry Service Advances In Senate

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to permit Marin County and San Francisco to operate a passenger ferry system was approved today by the Senate Finance Committee.

The bill, by Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, also would permit the state Department of Public Works to sell some surplus ferries to the two counties. The department is building a bridge between San Diego and Coronado, and has bought the ferry boat business that now operates the crossing service there.

The state's purchase of the five ferries owned by the business will be effective when the bridge is completed in July 1969.

Legislative analyst A. Alan Post estimated the value of the ferries at $500,000. Four of them are very old, he told the committee. Their replacement value is $2.1 million, he estimated.

Burton said his bill had been requested by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors "to have this alternative open to them." The bill provides that the ferry system would be operated by the two counties under a joint powers agreement.

The bill previously passed the Assembly and now goes to the Senate floor for passage.

In other action on ferries, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors yesterday voted to put up $30,000 as that city's share of a $45,000 study of the feasibility of operating ferry boats between the two counties. Marin had previsously voted its $15,000 share of the study.

Arnheiter, Resnick Flay Navy For Press Release

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lt. Cmdr. Marcus Arnheiter of San Rafael and his principal congressional defender yesterday accused the Navy of spreading charges against the deposed skipper that the Navy itself had found to be untrue.

Arnheiter and Rep. Joseph Resnick, D-N.Y., denounced the Navy for releasing to reporters Friday "findings" which it said resulted in Arnheiter being relieved as commanding officer of the USS Vance in March 1966.

The Vance was operating off the coast of Vietnam when Arnheiter was summarily removed from command for what the Navy later said was his "lack of judgment." Arnheiter, who is seeking a formal court on inquiry or court martial to clear himself, maintains he was the victim of a conspiracy by some "mutinous" junior officers.

Resnick and the 42-year-old Annapolis graduate contended that of 41 charges originally levelled against Arnheiter, all but three were dismissed by the Navy, and that the three remaining accusations were minor and technical violations.

Arnheiter and Resnick said of the Navy's disclosure of the other findings and recommendations Friday:

"The Navy knew they were false when they issued them. They knew they were refuted."

Resnick told a news conference that if the charges were true Arnheiter ought to be court martialed. He cited the conclusion of Vice Adm. W. H. Baumberger, the reviewing authority, who threw out 38 charges against Arnheiter and recommended that he be given command of another ship. His general conclusion was that Arnheiter showed "some lack of...good judgment," in his zeal to improve his ship but that he was a brilliant officer whose services should not be lost to the Navy.

Federal Workers To Hear Savio

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mario Savio, an early leader of a rebellious faction on the campus of the University of California at Berkeley, has been given permission to speak as a political candidate to some federal employees.

Even if some object, Savio will be welcome to speak tomorrow, said the regional office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Office director Robert B. Pitts said Savio, a Peace and Freedom party candidate for assemblyman, will address HUD's 25 interns here.

Suspect Admits Check Charges

Carl Phillip Umland, 20, of San Rafael, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to two felony charges that he possessed fradulent checks with intent to pass them and defraud another.

The district attorney dropped a third charge of the same offense in view of his guilty pleas.

Umland's case was continued until June 10 for sentencing.

Gun Count Denied

Harold Dean Arrasmith, 32, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday to a charge that he was a felon in possession of a concealable gun Feb. 17 in San Rafael. His case was continued two weeks to set a jury trial date.

Mill Valley Planners Ask Larger Signs For Annex

The freeway frontage road area due for annexation to Mill Valley should be allowed larger signs than the rest of the city, the Mill Valley Planning Commission recommended last night.

Acting on proposals by the staff, the commission recommended signs be allowed a maximum of 200 square feet, compared to 100 square feet in the rest of the city. Maximum heights would be 20 feet for free-standing signs, 25 feet for building front signs, and 30 feet for rooftop signs.

The commission recommended establishing a highway frontage sign zone, 200 feet deep from the limit of Highway 101 and applying only to general commercial and commercial-recreational districts.

Public hearings would be held on sign ordinances after the area is annexed.

The commission told Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon to give Swedish Motors, 489 Miller Avenue, a few days to end reported violations of conditions attached to their use permit, and to have a citation issued if violations continue.

The commission was told the car firm has not used wheel stops on cars displayed on an outside platform, and is using parking spaces intended for customer and employee parking to display cars for sale.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission also:

TRANSPORTATION — Discussed the county report on a balanced transportation system, and told Bragdon to invite County Planning Director Paul Zucker to the May 27 meeting to answer questions on the report. Regarding city views on transit, Bragdon was told to refer County officials to transit sections of the 1962 Mill Valley general plan, the 1965 general plan amendment, and the 701 planning study.

SIGN — Granted Northridge subdivision a three-month extension of permission for a sign at the subdivision entrance.

Fine, Jail Sentence For Reckless Driving

Robert Boyd Champagne, 40, of 960 Lea Drive, San Rafael, must serve 10 days in jail and pay a $174 fine for reckless driving on Highway 101 March 16.

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court imposed that sentence after the district attorney changed his charge against Champagne from drunken to reckless driving. Champagne, who needs his car for work, would have lost his driver's license with another drunken driving conviction, according to the district attorney.

Why should I waste my time?

I can't afford average reading speeds

"Slow readers work harder for their grades," Lorna Lawson says. "Without Readak, I'd be just another average reader. That's not good enough.

"I've got to enter the college that's best for me. And I want to do other things besides study when I get there."

Lorna knows so-called average readers are ten years behind the times. Back in 1958, 250 words per minute was an average reading speed. But it's all different today. Ask any college sophomore. You'll be told 400 to 500 words per minute is a must for ordinary study.

"I've learned one thing," Lorna says. "Knowing how to read fast isn't enough. To stay ahead, you've got to know how to skim at least 3,000 words a minute when the pressure's on. And you need to understand everything you read."

Many people agree with Lorna. They're the ones who know what it takes to make it in school today.

Class presidents, school paper editors, valedictorians, scholarship winners, athletes and many others choose Readak speed reading programs.

These outstanding people are already superior students. But, after Readak training, they won't need to work as hard to keep up with heavy reading loads in senior high or college classes. They'll have more free time.

At Readak, average readers break out of the pack and stay ahead. Faster reading gives them time for all the things they've been missing. Effective reading not only helps them learn more. It creates time for other things.

It's no accident that Readak programs have been conducted at Santa Clara University, Menlo College, San Francisco College for Women, Notre Dame College, and Westmont College—to name a few.

Lorna Lawson is a senior at Convent of the Sacred Heart, in Menlo Park. Her grade point average is 3.8.

What's more, scientists, technicians and professionals at NASA Ames Research Center, Lockheed Missile and Space Division, Ampex, Stanford Research Institute, and many major industries have called on Readak to help improve their reading effectiveness.

"Readak's program is exciting and stimulating," Lorna says. You'll learn all forms of hand-pacing, skimming, scanning, overviewing, pre-reading, outlining, technical and critical reading. In other words, you'll learn everything it takes to read two, three or even four times faster.

Readak students use these new skills in their first class. Grades go up. Study is easier. Reading assignments become exciting challenges, not causes for worry.

This summer you can develop the reading skills you'll need in the fall, and for many years to come.

Readak's small classes make it possible for you to learn with people you know and understand.

Our free reading test is nationally standardized. It shows you where you stand. It tells us exactly what special training you need. If you don't take the program, there's no charge for the test.

Now's the time to plan for tomorrow's success.

Our first two summer sessions are already filling up. But there's still room for those who sign up now. Here's our schedule:

Session 1
Tuesday/Thursday June 19 thru July 18

Session 2
Monday/Wednesday
July 8 thru August 7

Session 3
Tuesday/Thursday
July 23 thru August 22

Session 4
Monday/Wednesday
August 12 thru September 11

Classes meet from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on scheduled dates. Daytime classes are also offered.

Call now for a free brochure. Now is the best time to make your free test appointment, also. Just phone 388-2993. Ask for Mrs. Howsman or Mrs. Swett.

BOY'S BURGLARY STASH

Inspector Charles Prandi of the Marin sheriff's juvenile division inspects drugs and burglary loot, found in the bedroom of a 16-year-old Tamalpais Valley boy. The items, which include an antique violin and $1,500 worth of cameras, were stolen from about eight Marin County homes, Prandi said. The boy, ill with hepatitis, will be arrested later, Prandi said. He told the officer the loot was left at his house by friends.

Novato Water Tanks Getting A Green Coat

The Novato City Beautification Committee last night heard reports from two other official bodies on what they are doing toward beautification.

Jerome B. Gilbert, manager of the North Marin County Water District, reported that the district was painting its tanks green to blend with the hills. It is also planting trees around them to hide them Gilbert told the committee, according to Mrs. Frances Miller, secretary.

Capt. Richard Beyer of the Novato Fire District said that the fire department had planted 900 trees which it received as seedlings from the state Division of Forestry. It will raise these to plant at its Atherton Avenue station site, and other places, where they would beautify fire district property.

The committee has scheduled representatives of the Novato Unified School District and the Novato Sanitary District to tell of their efforts toward beautification at its meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the city manager's office at city hall.

Principal Applicants Interviewed

The Novato Unified School District board in a closed meting last night interviewed five applicants for two principals which will be open for next school year, according to Supt. James G. Bunker.

The district will have openings for principals of the West Novato School and the Pacheco School. Donald Wineland, principal at West Novato this year, will become principal of the new San Ramon School next year. Neill Whitman, principal of Pacheco, has asked for reassignment, Bunker said.

The board still has one applicant to interview, he said. This will probably be done in a closed meeting at 7 p.m. Monday before the regular school board meeting at 8 p.m., Bunker added.

The bord interviewed two applicants from within the district and three from outside the district last night, Bunker said. It did not take any action, he said.

Senior Citizens' Club Will Hold Initial Session

First meeting of the new senior citizens' club formed through the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department, the San Rafael Goldenaires, will be at 11 a.m. May 29 at the San Rafael Community Recreation Center, Second and Brooks Streets.

Officers of the club appointed by Andrew J. Snyder, director of the parks and recreation department, include Mrs. Matt Graham, president; Vreeland March, first vice president; Mrs. Edna Praun, second vice president; Ethel Bryce, recording secretary; Mrs. Gene Freyer, corresponding secretary and Ernest Blagg, treasurer.

Board members are Mrs. Margot Buil, Mrs. Katherine Smickler, Edward Ferguson and Mrs. Florence Benedict.

All adults, over 50 years old who live in Marin County are invited to the meeting, Snyder said.

Sister City Voted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The board of supervisors yesterday approved a sister city relationship with Sydney, Australia, and ordered implementation by the Chamber of Commerce.

Budget Gets Brief Look In Kentfield

The Kentfield School District board last night took a brief look at the 1968-69 preliminary budget, but continued a deeper study until the regular 8 p.m. meeting May 27 at Wolfe Grade School.

Recommendations for administrative salaries and major improvements will be made at that time, according to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich.

The district has a tax rate of $3.33 per $100 assessed valuation. The current budget is $1,226,577.

The board last night endorsed the proposed $9,900,500 bond issue placed on the Nov. 5 general election ballot by the Tamalpais High School District.

The Kentfield School District Board also:

RESEARCH — Granted a total of $3,820 in district research and development grants to instructors Robert Cadwallader, Robert Geurts, Leslie Henningsen and Kenneth Stanford for research this summer in programs including reading and mathematics.

TEACHERS — Hired for next year all 59 teachers recommended for re-employment.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations by teachers Frances Featherman and Joan Reilly, both of Wolfe Grade School; Joan Rubens, Adaline E. Kent School, and Thomas Swearingen, Greenbrae School, and custodian Elbert Harrington of Kent School and Shelah Golden, noontime supervisor.

ABSENCE — Granted a maternity leave of absence to Tobi Rex Rosenstein, Wolfe Grade School teacher.

NEW EMPLOYMENT—Hired Janet K. Wallis as a primary teacher for $8,184 annually; Ben Hicks as custodian for $475 a month, and Dennis Noell, noontime supervisor for $2.25 an hour.

Corte Madera's Planners Ask Synanon Ban Extended

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night recommended that the Town Council extend for one year an emergency ordinance passed March 4 to guard against Synanon Foundation moving into the town without a use permit.

The recommendation may only be academic, because the owner of Uplands Apartments, Tomlinson I. Moseley, said on May 5 that purchase negotiations with Synanon have been canceled.

Passed as a 90-day interim ordinance, the measure duplicates a portion of the present town zoning ordinance, but spells out in more detail the restrictions against use of any building in residential areas for purposes including the treatment of rehabilitation of narcotic addicts unless a use permit is applied for and granted.

The ordinance extension, if approved by the town council, would be effective June 4.

The Corte Madera Planning Commission also:

SIGNS — Approved request by Fox and Carskadon, Inc., San Rafael, to install two direction signs for Mariner Green townhouses.

DESIGNS — Approved the designs of a proposed new post office at 7 Pixley Avenue, a proposed Hyatt House restaurant at the intersection of Casa Buena Drive and Sanford Street, and a proposed building for light manufacturing and warehouse by Handi-Kup Co. at 195 Tamal Vista Boulevard.

MAP — Approved the tentative map for dividing into two parcels a lot in Fifer Industrial Park.

PASSENGE SHELTER — Denied an application by William G. Melbern of Sausalito for a passenger shelter at the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

CANOPY — Approved the request of Shell Oil Co. of Millbrae for a canopy at a service station at 516 Tamalpais Drive.

ADDITION — Approved the design for classroom additions at Granada School, Reed Union School District.

Possible Span Jump Thwarted

A call to the suicide prevention bureau at 2:40 p.m. yesterday alerted officers on the Golden Gate Bridge to take into custody a 21-year-old insurance salesman from Foster City.

A friend from Belmost Belmont said that David O. Guimont III had called and said he was "going out and leave it all," and that Guimont had been depressed as he was going through a divorce and had recently lost three friends in a plane crash, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Bridge Lt. Edward Ashoff located Guimont walking on the east sidewalk at 3 p.m. Guimont was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

Candidate Loses Host For Party

At least one candidate for the primary election is a bit redfaced to find that some citizens still are picking and choosing among his opponents.

Michael Wornum, candidate for Marin County supervisor in the Third District, announced Friday that a coffee for him would be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis M. Mitchell, Mill Valley.

Yesterday, however, his campaign staff sent out a "correction" noting that the Thursday coffee had been switched to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith W. Kaulum, 401 Marion Avenue, Mill Valley.

The Mitchells reportedly have decided to vote for Margaret Azevedo.

Head for the hills!

(it's the nicest way to go up!)

Most of us like to do a little climbing. After all, there's still room at the top. At the top of the land investment market, there's a development known as "a world of difference". It's called Cameron Park. Head for the foothills and look around in Cameron Park before you invest in unimproved land in a remote area. Put your money where it will grow faster.

There are 10 million dollars already invested in Cameron Park's 4,000 acres, 3 million more under construction right now. Naturally, your investment will increase faster when it's next to the ever-expanding State Capitol. As Sacramento pushes outward, exclusive suburban residential areas increase in demand. In Cameron Park one can escape from the flat valley to the rolling landscapes of the Sierra foothills. Living today. Better living tomorrow. Appreciation every day. Head for the hills. Your money will be glad you did.

Located in the lower Sierra foothills just 30 minutes East of Sacramento, Cameron Park's choice 4,000 acres include a scenic private lake, a million dollar country club with a championship golf course, an FAA approved airport complete with rotating beacon, strobe and runway lights, fuel and aircraft maintenance facilities.

Almost 50 miles of paved roads, main water and sewer lines are already in service. Unusual style carriage street lamps add to the Park's charm.

With Folsom Lake only ten minutes away, Cameron Park is a year around recreation paradise. Yet, it's far and above so-called recreation property.

You can live in Cameron Park . . . and that's what life is all about!

Children's Portrait Artist Seeks To Capture Impression

By BETTY FROST

Artist Gunnar Anderson, whose specialty is painting children, talked about the problems and rewards of working with youngsters.

He had just completed a portrait of Mrs. James Potts of Mill Valley and her two daughters, Kendall, 4, and Stephanie, 3. As he spoke in the living room of the Potts home in Mill Valley, the youngsters greeted him affectionately and inspected their likenesses with a combination of delighted recognition and disbelief.

The spontaneity of children, Anderson indicated, is part of their appeal. In order to capture their moods and actions, the artist rules out lengthy sittings. His method is to spend some time with the children, get acquainted, maybe take them for a walk, and observe them at play, all the while taking photographs. In preparation for the portrait of Alice Potts and the two little girls, at the end of the get acquainted session, the artist posed them in a chair in the family home and snapped a picture.

BACK IN his studio in Sonoma, with the strong north light, he worked out the composition. He paints with oils, usually working rather quickly.

"I find my most successful work comes quickly," he said. The portrait of the Potts family and individual heads of the two children, were completed in about a week.

"I don't try for a perfect likeness," the artist explained. "I want to obtain the impression of the children." He works with children from about two years old through the teens. "All the stages are interesting," he said.

For several years he has painted pictures of children which have been exhibited, like the one of a girl on her bicycle, with little brother hanging on, that he has donated to the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary, which will be awarded at the organization's benefit party, "Fiesta in Mexico," at Maple Lawn May 25.

Anderson often uses his own children, Paul, 6, Karin, 7, and Greta, 12, as models. A former art director for a San Francisco advertising agency, the artist, his wife and family lived in Terra Linda during his commuting days. There is another artist named Gunnar Anderson who lives in Mill Valley and specializes in marine paintings.

"I have always wanted to meet him," the man from Sonoma said," and I hope to in the future."

BORN IN Berkeley in 1927, the painter attended schools in the East Bay, served in the U.S. Coast Guard, attended the California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco for two years, and was graduated from the Los Angeles Art Center School. Five years ago he resigned from his agency directorship and moved to the Valley of the Moon to produce the paintings which have been widely acclaimed.

His natural pictures of children have been exhibited at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco; he had a one man show in New York, and his work is displayed at private galleries in Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, San Antonio and Northern and Southern California.

When he was studying art, Gunnar tried his hand at many things, but felt that his portrait work was only "competent." The success of his paintings of nameless children at play and in repose led to a demand for portraits of individual children. Recently he has developed a portrait clientele. He continues to work for authenticity and to capture normal activity. By eliminating sittings so tedious for little ones he makes the sessions fun for the children too.

'TO SEE OURSELVES as others see us' is giving Mrs. James Potts and her daughters, Kendall, 4, and Stephanie, 3, a pleasant surprise. With artist Gunnar Anderson, who painted both the heads of the little girls, and the large picture of the young Mill Valley mother and her children, they inspect the oil paintings. The artist, who specializes in children's pictures, uses methods which eliminate lengthy sitting for youngsters. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Moore, Rogers Nuptials

Steven Moore of Oakland and Phyllis Rogers of San Rafel exchanged wedding vows Saturday at a ceremony at the First Congregational Church in San Rafael.

Janice Hasart of Oakland was maid of honor, and Patrick Moore of Berkeley was best man. Ushering were Paul Porter and Michael Rogers, both of Berkeley.

The reception was held at the church. After a Northern California trip the newlyweds will return to live in Oakland.

Phyllis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Holmes Rogers of San Rafael and the sister of Wayne and Michael Rogers. She was graduated from San Carlos High School and will be graduated from Highland Hospital School of nursing in August.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Samuel Moore III of Berkeley. He is a graduate of Berkeley High School and the California Maritime Academy at Vallejo and is employed with the Standard Oil Co. of California in Richmond.

Steven is the brother of Margaret Mary Moore and Patrick Britton Moore of Berkeley and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Drew McDonnell of Berkeley.

Marin Women

Job Outlook Good For MatureWoman

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Say the children have grown out of the nest and you want to get back into the job world. Say also that you once held a good position, but quit it to bring up the family and wonder now whether you can qualify. Is your age against you? What are your chances of success as a mature woman?

Excellent, says a woman who works constantly with personnel departments in business and industry. Office help, for instance, is especially at a premium.

But she warns, "When you're job hunting don't undersell yourself. Don't ask, 'what can I do?' and end up a salesgirl." This belittling of ones talents is one of the most frequent drawbacks of the mature woman going back to a job, says Bernice M. Gurvich, mother of three, clinical psychologist, and staff consultant with The Personnel Laboratory, Stamford, Conn.

DON'T BE AFRAID to look for the better jobs, she says. Remember that running a home and caring for the family is experience that the employer can use.

Take honest stock of your skills, Mrs. Gurvich advises. And perhaps the best place to look first is in the temporary job field. Here you learn quickly what skills the employer calls for and you find what you want to do long range while you also are getting back into a business routine.

Mrs. Gurvich points out that because of shortages of office help many firms offer on the job training programs too.

The psychologist discusses jobs for mature women, from the standpoint of the employer, in the current issue of Personnel Journal, the magazine for industrial relations and personnel management. She elaborated on her views from the woman's angle in a telephone interview.

TO MRS. GURVICH, the woman who has the best chance for long term success is the mature one "from her 30's on up, depending on how early she married", who's had some setbacks in life but has good spirit, and one who is feminine rather than "one of the boys."

"Sweet young things are frequently just looking for a husband or (are) unsure of their goals," Mrs. Gurvich writes.

"The youngster is likely to be marking time in her search for a husband, or taking a job to expand the contacts available to her for marriage...the more mature woman has more stable concept of herself and her life and, therefore, a more stable

AN ACTIVE AND outdoor family, the Dick Heins and their children have been acting and working on the Mountain Play for nearly 10 years. This year Dick heads the construction of sets, his wife will assist in the commissary and with makeup and three of the youngsters will be on stage. From left are Dick, Kristi, Peter, Lora, Eric and Mrs. Hein.

Entire Family Gets Into Act When Mountain Play Time Comes

"Spring is the Mountain Play" is the philosophy of the Dick Hein family of San Anselmo. For years the entire family has taken a long and active part in the famed outdoor pageant which annually attracts thousands to Mount Tamalpais.

This year's production of "Alice Through the Looking Glass," the 51st production, is no exception. Dick is in charge of construction of the sets and has served for several years on the board of directors.

Alice Hein, will aid in the commissary, where the cast of hundreds must be fed, always on a tight time schedule, and in her spare time will help with make-up.

Peter, nine, will be seen as "a creature;" Eric, 14, plays a soldier, and Kristi, 16, will perform as a "dancing flower." For the first time, Lora, 18, will be in the audience. Graduating from Sir Francis Drake High this year, she has just received two scholarships to Mills College.

"Our entire family has been with the Mountain Play for almost 10 years," Dick says, "and it has become an important part of our life."

The Mountain Play seemed a natural development for the Heins. When not appearing in productions or working behind-the-scenes, they spend much time hiking the trails of Mount Tamalpais. For Dick the Mountain Play began with his father, Herman Hein, well known Marin landscape designer who designed for the Art and Garden Center. Always a great supporter of the Mountain Play, he took his son Dick, then aged two, for a hike up Tamalpais to see his first play. And Dick has been a Mountain Play enthusiast ever since.

"Our entire family has benefitted from the Mountain Play," Dick added. "Beside the obvious enjoyment of hobby and interest, our daughters have enjoyed the dance training they receive under Margot Jones, and our sons, of course, know almost every trail on that mountain."

Dick is an architect, specializing in maritime design, and Alice, again in that rare spare time, is attending College of Marin preparing for work in recreation leadership.

"Alice Through the Looking Glass," with Humpty Dumpty, Tweedledee and Tweedledum and all the other colorful Lewis Carroll characters will be presented May 19 and 26 at the Cushing Amphitheater on Mount Tamalpais.

Families usually arrive early to picnic and enjoy the fields and meadows on the mountain prior to the performance.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Go Easy On The Stickum Tape When You Send Coins In Mail

DEAR HELEN:

You said teens are better at following instructions and giving zip code numbers than are adults. I agree, but I wish you'd tell the kids — and everybody — that they don't need to glue down the coins they send for advertised items, with a whole roll of cellophane or adhesive tape!

I work for a company that offered a booklet for 25 cents. Wow! You can't believe how securely people fastened coins to their letters. Sometimes they even wrapped the whole coin in tape, then tape it to the paper with about a dozen strips, so that I couldn't get it off, even with scissors.

Inasmuch as almost everyone sometime writes in for an offer could you give instructions on best ways to do it? — BROKEN FINGERNAILS

DEAR B.F.:

Gladly—inasmuch as I just went through your same experience, with SOS buttons.

DEAR EVERYONE WHO SEND FOR OFFERS THROUGH THE MAIL:

1. If money is enclosed, secure it with one narrow strip of gummed tape, no more! And no less: don't let it rattle around loose in your envelope.

2. Be sure to print your address, including your city, state and zip code number. Never say "Local," or "City," after your street address, even though you think the offer is local. This means the answerer must refer to the postmark, and sometimes it is indistinct — or, if the envelope has been discarded, you'll get no answer.

3. When the offer calls for a stamped, self-addressed envelope, follow instructions. It means exactly that.

4. Don't send pennies. They'll cost you, or the receiver, extra postage, and they're a nuisance to handle.

5. Always read the offer carefully. Sometimes the coin is merely your initial payment, and you'll be dunned for the remainder.

6. If the offer calls for a coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, send both, and if you want ten booklets, don't expect them to fit into one envelope! Include extra postage.

7. Don't include questions not pertaining to the offer. Send them in a separate letter, and put your name, address, city, state and zip code number on your stationery, not merely on the outside envelope. I can't stress this too much: your complete address should follow your signature, if you want a reply. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My mother is thin and takes special pride in her looks and her possessions. Everything in the house has to be perfect, and I'm supposed to be perfect too. She never had pimples when she was a teen, so she figures it's all my fault when I get them. I've stopped wearing bangs, don't eat sweets, fats or chocolate, wash often with medicated soap and really I don't have too much of a problem, but she makes me feel so ugly.

She can't stand anything out of place, and she makes me get down on my hands and knees and pick up the lint in my bedroom, besides dusting, vacuuming, etc. every day. If I leave one thing on the table for even a minute, she's on to me. Then we get in fights, and I'm grounded.

Helen I have everything I want, and a beautiful home, money to spend, etc., so I shouldn't complain, but I wish just once she'd see the good in me and not always the wrong. I'd give up my big allowance gladly for just a few real compliments. — ALWAYS TRYING, BUT NEVER RIGHT

DEAR A.T.B.N.R.:

Someone should tell your mother that children need appreciation like flowers need water. So I'm telling her! Mother of ATBNR, stop being such a darn perfectionist, and be proud of your daughter! — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen Help you! Address Helen Bottel in care of The Independent-Journal.

Bonded Fabrics

Bonded fabrics offer greater shape-retention, comfort, durability, and warmth where needed. Bonding also provides new end-uses for fabrics hard to handle, such as knits, hopsacks, novelty weaves. Bonding describes two fabrics adhered through use of adhesives under heat and pressure or through the use of the flame method.

Poster Dresses

Young juniors go for kicky paper poster dresses. These sleeveless A-line shifts are decorated with larger than life photos of contemporary subjects reproduced in startling black and white reality, back and front.

Linda Hauser Engaged To Lawrence Susnow

Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Hauser of Mill Valley announce the engagment of their daughter, Linda Paulette, to Lawrence Irving Susnow.

Linda was graduated from Tamalpais High School. She attends the University of California, where she is affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta. She is the sister of the late Pamela Janine Hauser and the granddaughter of Mrs. Bruno Turkheimer of San Francisco.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward S. Susnow of San Francisco are the future bridegroom's parents. He is a graduate of Lick Wilmerding High School and attends the University of California, where he is a member of Acacia fraternity. Nancy Irene Susnow is his sister.

LINDA HAUSER

The couple plan a September wedding and will live in Berkeley, where the future bride will attend graduate school and the future bridegroom will attend medical school.

San Jose State College Is Setting For Pihl Wedding

The chapel at San Jose State College, where both the couple attended school, was the setting for the wedding Saturday afternoon of Kathleen N. Pascoe of San Rafael and Walter Pihl of Sunnyvale.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pascoe of San Rafael, Kathleen chose her sister, Gerry Pascoe, as her only attendant. Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother, Hobart Pihl of San Jose.

A reception was given in Sunnyvale and the couple left for a wedding trip to the Monterey area. They will make their home in San Jose.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended San Jose, and her husband is a graduate of Awolt High School in Los Altos and of San Jose State College. She is employed with J. Barth and Co. in San Jose, and he will enter graduate school at San Jose for a master's degree.

Kathleen is the sister of Mrs. Craig Scheiner of Ross, Edmund and Daniel Pascoe of San Rafael. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Larrieu of Healdsburg and Percy Pascoe of Santa Rosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Pihl of Sunnyvale are the bridegroom's parents.

Edith E. Irons Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery Dean Irons of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter Edith Eileen to Jules Cleveland Smith of Tulsa, Okla.

EDITH IRONS

Edith, who is the sister of Mrs. Gerhard Tischler of Corte Madera, was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended University of Oklahoma, where she was a Delta Gamma chapter pledge.

Jules is the son of Mrs. Edgar Winn Smith of Tulsa, formerly of Concord, Calif., and the late Mr. Smith. He has a brother, Stephen Smith of Tulsa. Jules was graduated from Clayton Valley High School in Concord, attended Diablo Valley Junior College and University of Maryland in Paris. He is now a student at University of Oklahoma.

An Aug. 23 wedding is planned in Tulsa.

Job Prospects Good For Mature Woman

job potential."

But Mrs. Gurvich adds that the mature job seeker "gets anxious at the whole prospect too. She finds she will need a whole new wardrobe, will have to work out all sorts of schedule changes if she is to fill the role of homemaker too."

The mature woman who's had some tough going and still is in there pitching is an asset, she continues.

"THEY DON'T FOLD up when the going gets rough on the job . . . it's not the number or kind of problems that counts, it's the presence or absence of a fighting spirit in the face of problems," she says.

As for the woman who is feminine, "rather than one of the boys," Mrs. Gurvich says, "Both men and women like women who ARE women." The one who takes on a masculine attitude and dress is "rarely a success in business and is likely to make others uncomfortable..."

"I'M NOT CERTAIN why some women try to be 'one of the boys'," she adds. "Perhaps it is to hide insecurity. Or, maybe it is the mistaken impression that to compete in a man's world, one has to act like a man."

In turn, don't expect concessions because you're a woman.

"Don't start handling her with kid gloves," she advises employers. "If she's doing the same job as men, judge her by the same standards."

One In 25 Men Is Color Blind

NEW YORK (UPI)—When hubby becomes angry you can't always be sure he sees red. Maybe he sees blue or yellow or something besides red.

Studies show that one man out of every 25 cannot distinguish colors properly, but only one of every 250 women suffer from this visual defect. Researchers in vision for the Murine Co. say girls generally don't inherit color blindness unless both parents are affected. If only one parent is color-blind, the trait can be transmitted to boys.

Victorian Air

Delicate lace cuffs lend a Victorian air to a body-skimming plaid cotton coat styled by Jeunesse for Maid of Cotton Susan Holder's summer wardrobe. It has a fly-front closing and mandarin collar.

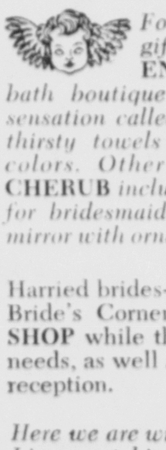
Town & Country Village
Leisurely Fashion-Luncheons each Wednesday at Inn Marin are a popular way to keep up with what's new on The Village fashion scene. Showtime is 12:30 and reservations are suggested. For your shopping convenience, all Village shops are open Wednesday evenings.
Mark the calendar, Mother. The kids won't want to miss Village Frontier Days June 1st and 2nd.



How about a leisurely breakfast at The HICK'RY PIT before a morning of shopping in The Village . . . all righty! To begin with, the coffee at this popular priced family restaurant is wonderful (a famous brand brewed carefully . . . just as you would at home). Then there are HICK'RY PIT truly homemade pancakes and thick sliced bacon to give you a general idea of what's cookin' here for breakfast (served all day long, by the way). Another popular menu item here is their superb barbecued meats. These just can't be beat . . . especially if you like an outside barbecue with indoor comfort!
This family's male teenager is very taken with the new Junior Man Department at CARLTON'S VILLAGE SPORTSWEAR. Here he can shop by himself, for himself and find all the newest styles that have been chosen with such good taste he knows Mom will approve. Lots of summer sportswear at CARLTON'S now, including short sleeved turtle necks and those indispensible Levi's. This department clothes boys from twelve on up . . . and when "up" arrives he has only to step to the other side of this handsome store to find a complete men's department.
For memorable shower and wedding gifts, be sure to see what THE GOLDEN CHERUB has to offer. This pretty bath boutique carries Callaway's newest towel sensation called Pompeii. Elegantly carved, these thirsty towels are available in three decorator colors. Other gift ideas at THE GOLDEN CHERUB include make-up mirrors, travel kits and, for bridesmaids gifts, a tiny satin backed hand mirror with ornate golden frame and handle.

Hey, Dad, you need help! . . . when it comes to planning potables for Daughter's wedding reception. Well, just step into VILLAGE LIQUORS and plan with Dan. This knowledgeable fellow is glad to suggest just the right "bubbly" from his extensive selection of domestic and imported champagnes.
Harried brides-to-be are happy to relax in the quiet Bride's Corner at ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP while they select their wedding stationery needs, as well as all the pretty paper things for the reception.
Get out of your dither, dear. Mothers of The Bride have found a welcome friend in CONTESSA ANGELA OF ROMA. Angela creates marvelous Mother of The Bride ensembles that are a far (and beautiful) cry from that old "lace curtain look."

Unbelievable! Both the price and quality of KUBLAI KHAN'S $2.95 Steak and Lobster dinner. Knowing the fussy shopping and preparation that goes into all offerings at this attractive restaurant, I can't imagine they are making a penny on this dish . . . but, don't ask questions, just enjoy!
Here we are with an early dry season and there sits Lisa scratching away miserably at an early crop of fleas. MUTTS OF MARIN to the rescue with flea collars for cats and dogs . . . the newest of these "really-work-wonders" is in a chic, bright red, m'dear!

Whee! Talk about "kick up your heels" footwear . . . you should see the bright patents at THE SANDAL. Golo and Capezio has gone all out for color this season and created some of the sprightliest footwork ever to grace m'lady's tootsies. A sling back sandal called The Tease is sure to please with it's WOW colors and right now styling.
On your mark, girls, get set, GO! K. MYERS FABRICS starts a store-wide sale tomorrow. There will be at least a 10% discount on everything in the store (including wedding-type fabrics) plus larger reductions on many special items. What a great opportunity to save now and sew later!
Found perfect wedding attendant gifts by Anson at VILLAGE JEWELERS. Ready to be engraved with date, initials or message are cuff links, tie bars, pocket knives and key chains. Also ID bracelets, charms and pins. This Anson line is very good looking and the price range of the sterling, gold filled or 14 carat pieces will please any bride or groom's budget. Nice feature of VILLAGE JEWELERS is their complimentary cocktails, dinner and champagne at Inn Marin for couples purchasing diamond wedding sets.

SHE'S GERMANY'S most intelligent woman' according to a survey contest by one of West German's leading women's magazines. Twenty-year old Evelyn Jakoby, an apothecary's assistant in Bremen.

Long Term Testing Divulges The Most Intelligent Woman

BREMEN, Germany (GF) — A 20-year-old apothecary's assistant has been selected West Germany's most intelligent woman in a contest sponsored by one of that country's largest lady's magazines.

Bremen's Evelyn Jakoby was proclaimed the winner after taking extensive tests for one-half year and outclassing finalists in a round in Stuttgart.

Initially, she was competing with nearly 2,000 women, chosen on the basis of answers given to a questionaire. The testing program was headed by Dr. Herbert Steiner, teacher in applied psychology at the University of Mainz.

Along the way the top six candidates were determined and pitted against each other in the final round in Stuttgart.

Scientists chosen to administer the tests there soon overcame any doubts about the brightness of women, if they had any: some of the finalists correctly pointed out inaccuracies in the scientists' chain of thinking, purely unintentional on the scientists' part.

San Rafael Council Begins $4.1 Million Budget Work

San Rafael city councilmen trimmed a little here and added a little there last night as they started work on a recommended $4,111,595 budget for fiscal 1969.

The council, in its first budget review session, disposed of budgets for building, planning, general services, finance, city manager, civil defense, parking meters, garage, sanitation district and weed abatement. In most, the only increases were for the regular progression of employees up the salary schedule; and some were reduced from this year.

SALARIES DELAYED

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen has recommended a 5 per cent over-all increase in salary scales, but the council will not act on that until the rest of the budget has been reviewed, announced Mayor C. Paul Bettini.

After last night's session, Councilman Fred E. Jensen predicted "a couple of cents" may be trimmed from the city's 90-cent tax rate.

Budget for the planning department was approved at $51,914, up $102 from the estimated expenditures for this year. That for the building department was cut to $45,078 from this year's outlay of $46,436. This represents a continued drop, due to slowdown of new construction. Last fiscal year, the department spent $61,190.

UTILITY COSTS

In general services, the council revised upward the city finance officer's estimate of utility costs, and added an adding machine at $275, to bring the total to $205,595, up $893 from estimated costs for the current year.

The city manager's budget of $48,046 (up $283 from this year's cost) was approved despite Andersen's absence. He is in Franklin Hospital in San Francisco, under treatment for a persistent leg infection.

The finance department budget of $28,769 (up $770) was approved with proviso for a change for recommended reclassification of one employee. The civil defense outlay of $450 is unchanged from this year.

ADDS DRILL PRESS

On Jensen's urging, the council added a $250 drill press to the budget for the garage, bringing the total to $39,423 (up $3,472). Budget for services and equipment the city provides the sanitation district was set at $3,600 after councilmen cut $250 from the recommendation (down $263). This is repaid to the city by the district, which levies a separate tax rate.

Parking meter expenses were approved at $3,041 (up $403), but budget for the downtown parking district was held up when councilmen questioned the figure for rental of the Lindaro Street parking lot from Pacific Gas & Electric Co., which appeared to be too high.

Finance Director James H. McCown, who took over midway in budget preparation from resigned Orrin C. Wendling, estimated total tax revenues at $2,608,873, which provides for no increase in real estate taxes but a small gain in sales tax and about $91,000 increase in cigarette tax (the cigarette tax boost with money going to cities was not in effect the first two months of the current fiscal year).

NEXT SESSION

Revenue projections total $3,697,385, which would mean dipping into reserves to meet the proposed $4,111,595 budget. Unallocated reserves are listed at $985,954.

Discussion of budgets for city attorney, city clerk, police and fire departments was set for June 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

Linoleum Cut Prints On View

A collection of linoleum cut prints by Mill Valley artist Clement Hurd is on exhibit until mid June in the children's room of the Mill Valley library.

The prints are studies for Hurd's illustrations of a book by his wife, Edith Thacher Hurd, titled "The Blue Heron Tree."

The book and prints show the life of egrets and the great blue herons on Audubon Canyon Ranch at Bolinas.

Reed Summer School Registration Set

Registration for summer classes in Reed School District will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday at Del Mar School.

Parents are requested to accompany students registering and enrollment will be on a first come basis, according to John C. Pitch, director of information.

Military Unit To Aid Swim Show Benefit

A military color guard and escort will join the multitude of young dancers and swimmers for the finale of this year's Marin Ballet Aquacade, which will be held at 2:30 p.m. June 8-9 at the Peacock Gap Beach Club.

During the finale 90 swimmers will form an American Flag in the pool, according to Mrs. Ralston Hodgson of Ross, who will direct the ballet aquacade again this year in its 23rd performance.

Other features of the show will be dancing and swimming to three Tchaikovsky waltzes, an Indian village number and a "salute to the 1968 Olympics" by Ann Curtis's award-winning synchronized swim team.

During the intermission jets from Hamilton Air Force Base will fly over the site of the show.

Marin Student A Poster Winner

A fifth grade student at San Clemente School in Corte Madera was one of four first place winners in a poster contest held by the Redwood Region Conservation Council.

Matt A. Witala of 10 Seamost Passage, Corte Madera, won a $25 cash award for the first place in the intermediate grade class, according to Norman Traverso, public relations manager for the council in Santa Rosa.

Matt's poster competed with 64 posters which were preliminary winners in the regional judging in April. The winning posters will be displayed throughout the Redwood region.

They will also be entered in the Western States Keep Green Contest, Traverso said.

Marin Teeners Garner Music Scholarships

Two 15-year-old boys from Marin County placed first in two categories yesterday afternoon in the annual scholarship auditions of the Pacific Musical Society in San Francisco.

Winner of the $750 scholarship was oboist Mark Salkind, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Salkind of Mill Valley, specialists in music for four hand, one piano. Winner of the $250 scholarship was pianist Michael Mello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harold Mello of San Rafael.

Mark is a sophomore at the Urban School in San Francisco and is a pupil of Leland Lincoln, director of instrumental music at Reed School in Tiburon.

Michael performed as soloist last year with the Marin Youth Orchestra under Hugo Rinaldi. He is a sophomore at Marin Catholic High School and is a pupil of Faith France, head of the music department of the San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow.

More Bad News For Tough Luck Granatelli

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Car owner Andy Granatelli has suffered still another setback in his 22-year-old quest for victory in the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

One of the four Grand Prix drivers Granatelli hired to drive his stable of turbocars will be out of action for at least three weeks with a hairline fracture of the right wrist. Jackie Stewart suffered the injury when the steering wheel lashed back during practice for a Formula Two race in Spain.

Two of the drivers—Jim Clark of Scotland and Mike Spence of England—were killed in racing accidents. Clark died April 7 at Hockenheim, Germany, and Spence was injured fatally a month later at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, practicing for the 500.

American driver Parnelli Jones, also signed to drive for Granatelli, withdrew, saying the turbocar which nearly won the Memorial Day Indianapolis race last year no longer was competitive with piston-engine cars because of revisions ordered by the U.S. Auto Club.

The turbocar was retired permanently Sunday when it spun and slapped the wall here. Granatelli said the car was not worth repairing because a USAC rule change effective next year will not permit engines to extend beyond the inside edge of the wheel.

Dave Blackmer, six-year member of the Granatelli team, says Granatelli "goes to the end of the road and overcomes obstacles where others would give up."

Blackmer said, "If it hand't been for the 1969 ban on the wheel, Andy and his brothers (Vince and Joe) would have worked day and night to rebuild the turbocar."

Although the turbine made its debut at Indianapolis earlier, it wasn't until Granatelli unveiled the bright red No. 40 last year that the turbine-powered car caught the public eye.

Car owners and drivers of the conventional piston-engine cars protested that their machines were no match for the turbocar.

It was characteristic f key advancements the Granatelli brothers have helped pioneer. The four-wheel-drive permitted the car to corner better.

The ability to use almost a y fuel permitted it to quality at racing speed while other cars used pepped up mixtures in the trials and then slowed down with regular fuels in the race.

The failure of the turbocar last year hit the Granatelli team hard, but Andy bounced back.

"When we're exhausted, he's just going into his second wind," Blackmer said. "He just won't give up. He wants to win that 500-mile race."

McCormick To Pitch For Giants

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Giants open a busy homestand at Candlestick Park tonight just four games out of first place—and two and a half out of last.

Manager Herman Franks plans to send Mike McCormick (2-3) against Dave Giusti (3-2) of Houston in the first of seven games to be played over a six-day period. The Giants play three with the Astros and four with Chicago, including a doubleheader Sunday. Tonight's game starts at 8 o'clock.

FOUR BEHIND

The idle San Francisco team fell four games behind St. Louis yesterday when the Cardinals edged Pittsburgh, 1-0. The Pirates dropped out of a second place tie with the Giants because of the defeat, but Atlanta moved in by defeating Philadelphia, 4-2.

With the World Champion Cardinals pulling away, only two and one-half games separate the other nine teams in the league.

HART OUT

The Giants will be without Jim Ray Hart, who aggravated a groin muscle on Cincinnati's wet Crosley Field, and trainer Leo Hughes ordered him to rest for at least a week.

However, Hart will be allowed to pinch hit.

Ollie Brown is expected to replace Hart in left, with Jim Davenport counted on to play third.

Hart started the season in left but has seen recent action at third. If Davenport's back is ailing, young Frank Johnson will go to third.

Jim Hunter Goes After Twins Again

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP)—The Minnesota Twins try tonight to do what they couldn't last Wednesday night — get a man to first base against the Oakland A's and pitcher Jim Hunter.

Hunter, 3-2, makes his first start since pitching his 4-0 perfect game against the Twins in Oakland Coliseum, the first perfect game in the American League in 46 years.

Hunter faces Minnesota's Jim Merritt, 3-2, who's had six days' rest.

After the no-hitter, the A's lost three straight to Chicago before winning 6-2 Sunday.

The A's, in fourth place with a 14-15 record, have been a better club on the road than they have at home.

They have a 9-5 away record and a 5-10 home mark.

The A's have been getting good pitching but have averaged only three runs a game. In three of their four losses last week they scored a total of two runs.

'Derby' Hearing In Second Day

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Dancer's Image's owner Peter Fuller and trainer Lou Cavalaris have left Louisville. But the hearing in the disqualification of the gray colt as Kentucky Derby winner continues at Churchill Downs today.

"We'll be back Wednesday morning," Fuller said as he prepared to board a plane for Baltimore after testifying in the first day of the stewards' hearing yesterday. The owner and trainer said they were asked by the stewards to attend a session tomorrow, perhaps to offer more testimony.

Today, however, the two were to supervise a workout for Dancer's Image, now in training for the Preakness this Saturday.

At the first day of the hearing, which lasted 11½ hours, eight or more witnesses offered testimony or evidence. However, no one divulged what transpired at the closed session, which was cloaked by tight security.

The hearing is intended to determine who is to blame for the appearance of phenylbutazone in the colt's system after the running of the Derby May 4.

Cavalaris' reputation is at stake, plus he could be suspended from handling Fuller's string. In addition, Fuller says he won't run Dancer's Image in the Preakness if Cavalaris can't saddle him.

Fuller already has lost the $122,600 Derby purse because of the drug incident. The money presumably will be awarded to Calumet Farm's Forward Pass. However, any distribution of the purse awaits an order from the stewards, which will be issued only after completion of the hearing.

An armed guard barred from the hearing all but those included on prepared list. Even Churchill Downs' President Wathen Knebelkamp and the track's public relations director, Kelso Sturgeon, had to be double checked before they were admitted.

Besides Fuller, trainer Cavalaris and two members of Fuller's stable staff gave testimony.

Also before the stewards yesterday were Dr. Alex Harthill, in whose barn Dancer's Image was quartered before the Derby; Doug Davis, who had his racing string in the next barn, and two representatives of the drug testing firm that found phenylbutazone in the colt's urine.

In addition, seven lawyers, including State Attorney General John Breckinridge and an aide, were in attendance.

After sitting in seven hours, Breckinridge left, saying that he was only there as an observer. Should the case reach open court, however, Breckinridge would represent the State Racing Commission as legal counsel.

George Lee To Be Named Warrior Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Assistant coach George Lee, 31, was expected to be elevated to head man of the San Francisco Warriors today.

The Warriors called a 3 p.m. news conference to announce the signing of a successor to Bill Sharman, who left the Warriors to join the Los Angeles Stars of the American Basketball Association as an executive and coach.

Franklin Mieuli, Warriors' owner who lost out to the Oakland Oaks of the ABA in the bidding for Alex Hannum, has said Lee was the "the future coach of the Warriors."

His only concern was that the former Michigan player was not ready at this time.

The San Francisco newspapers reported Lee would probably sign a one-year contract at about $20,000 a year, and that guard Al Attles would become his assistant.

Let's Have Champs Golf Tourney For The Gals

Okay, now that we have the men's Marin Tournament of Champions golf event all set for June 29, it's time we turned our attention to the ladies. Bless the lady golfers.

The men's titlists of Marin's six golf clubs will square off at San Geronimo next month, so I think we should persuade the Divot Dollies to inaugurate a similar tournament to determine our county's champion of champions.

Well, not really a SIMILAR tournament. I mean, the men will engage in 18 holes of medal play. You know, golf as it was meant to be played. The guy with the fewest strokes wins. How boring.

The ladies would never stand for such a silly old tournament. They have been known to make a cinerama production out of the simple game of pasture pool. They not only are handicaps in themselves, but the Bogey Broads have inspired the handicap system. Thirty-six to them is not a size, it's their rating.

"Hello, Sports Department? This is Mrs. Elmer Zilch, publicity chairman for the Lace'n'Mace Country Club. I'd like to report our winner for today's Throw Out Three Holes Tournament. Mrs. Shavaneau Glick won with 118-36—82. Isn't that good? And for the second nine holes Mrs. Wither Spoon won the grand prize with 116-36—80."

"Waitaminit, Mrs. Zilch. We're interested in low gross. Who won the low gross honors?"

"The low what? Oh, GROSS! Mrs. Garfinkel shot 144. But she couldn't play the last nine."

"No, Madame, I don't mean THAT kind of gross. I mean who had the best actual score without all that subtraction garbage."

"Oh, the best score? We don't even count her, silly. But our winner of the special hole-in-one contest today was Mrs. Mulligan. She came within 123 yards of the spin. Whee! G'bye, now."

See what I mean? Oh, these fairway flowers are cutie pies. They have all sorts of weird tournaments like Big and Little Sisters, Three Little Pigs, Iron Tournament, T and F (figure THAT one out) etc. But my all-time favorite is the String Tournament. Yep! String!

For example, if your handicap is 36 you get 36 feet of string. Everytime you get in trouble you just measure off some string and move your ball to wherever you please, snipping off that length of string with shear delight. If you are, say, three difficult putting feet from the hole and you have three feet of string left — um, hmm — you just made the easiest shot of your life, Molly. The only trouble is, that when you run out of string you are, shall we say, at the end of your rope.

Now, back to the plot. If the Greensward Girlies were to play a Tournament of Champions, they could stretch it over a year. Golly, think of all the fun. They could start out with the Big and Little Sister, follow it up with the Throw Out Three Holes, thence a six-month long ecclectic classic, followed by a Three Little Pigs, and Iron Tournament, a Tin Whistle event, move into the semi-finals with a T and F and then — ta-ta — the grand finals: STRING!

I don't know what prize we could offer. Hey, I've got it. Give all the string to the loser and make her knit the champion of champions a complete wardrobe.

Ice Seals To Stay In Oakland

MONTREAL (AP) — Oakland, a member of the National Hockey League's West Division, will be back next season.

The Seals, in financial difficulties throughout their first season, have settled their money problems with the league and will operate under the current owners again next season.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, said today the $680,000 the Seals owed the league had been paid. Deadline for payment was tomorrow.

He said that no application has been made by Oakland owner Barend Van Gerbig to move the franchise to another location —presumably Vancouver.

"The matter has settled itself insofar as the financial situation is concerned," Campbell said prior to leaving for a governor's meeting scheduled later in the week for New York.

"And no application has been made to move the franchise," he added.

The $680,000 was the final payment of the $2,000,000 entry fee the Seals paid in order to join five other clubs to form the expansion division for the 1967-68 season. Had the debt been forfeited, the franchise and the players' contracts would have reverted to league ownership.

Shiner Goes To Steelers From Browns

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers acquired quarterback Dick Shiner and tackle Frank Parker and a high National Football League draft choice from the Cleveland Browns today. The Browns obtained quarterback Bill Nelsen and defensive back Jim Bradshaw.

Shiner is a 6-foot, 195-pound quarterback who starred at the University of Maryland and was signed by the Washington Redskins. Last August he was traded to the Browns for quarterback Jim Ninowski.

Parker, a 6-foot-5, 270-pound defensive tackle, was drafted by the Browns in 1962 from Oklahoma State University and he's been with the team since 1962.

Nelsen and Bradshaw both came to the Steelers in 1963. Nelsen played on a bad leg his first season 1965.

PRO FOOTBALL MEETING

A Battle For Prize Plum

ATLANTA (AP)—The battle for pro football's prize plum—the 1969 Super Bowl site—opens today at the joint meeting of the American and National Football League owners amid indications that Miami and New Orleans hold the inside track.

At a news conference yesterday, Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the football leagues, said the choice has pretty well narrowed to the two cities.

MOST LIKELY

"New Orleans and Miami are the most likely candidates," Rozelle said, although insisting that neither has a particular advantage in the selection. He also mentioned that other sites still might be considered.

Mayor Victor H. Schiro of New Orleans and Mayor Steve Clark of Miami, where the 1968 Super Bowl was held, make presentations for their cities today.

And, as one source put it, "It's Miami's track record against New Orleans' potential."

Miami's strongest selling point may well be its sellout for the gate hit a $3 million high. There has been some sentiment for shifting the game back and forth between NFL and AFL cities but there is no rule requiring this.

BY TOMORROW

Rozelle said the final decision will be reached by tomorrow.

Other controversial problems scheduled for consideration by owners today and tomorrow ingame last January when the clude a proposal to eliminate the one-point conversion kick after touchdowns and demands by the NFL Players Association.

The kick, if eliminated, would be replaced by a running or passing one-point score.

Demands by the NFL Players Association include the setting aside of $5 million annually for the player retirement fund and a minimum salary of $15,000 a year for players.

In other action yesterday, Rozelle said the club owners adopted new regulations for returning Olympic athletes and rejected a proposal for a combined scouting system for the AFL and NFL.

CHOICE

Under the new regulations, a club owner will have a choice of activating at any time an Olympic athlete returning to a club after Oct. 15 or could choose not to activate the athlete. However, if the athlete is to participate in postseason games, he must play in at least two regular games.

Among the Olympic athletes affected are these already drafted by the pro teams: Curley Culp, Denver; Jimmy Hines, Miami; Randy Matson, Atlanta; Earl McCullough and Ed Carruthers, Detroit, and Tommy Smith, Los Angeles.

The combined scouting system, Rozelle said, was rejected because "a lot of the clubs feel they are better off with the free enterprise system."

The pro football commissioner also said any expansion other than that already planned would be "virtually impossible" before 1970 and said that all franchises in both leagues seemed fairly healthy.

"We've had some stormy seas in the past," he said, "but we're very pleased with the progress since the merger of the two leagues."

Batting Is Serious Business For Staub

Rusty Staub is just 24 years old and is starting his sixth major league season with the Houston Astros. He is the darling of Astrodome fans who regard him as the superstar of their team. Such adulation could turn the head of another young man but not Staub, a very serious student of the art of hitting.

Staub is so intent at perfecting his specialty, which is getting base hits, that he is oblivious to the roars of the crowd when at bat.

"It's a serious business with me," said Staub on his arrival in San Francisco with the Astros for a three-game rematch in Candlestick with the Giants. Staub, in a 4-for-4 night during which he knocked in six runs, destroyed the Giants in the opener of last week's Astrodome series that the Astros took three games to one.

"I CONCENTRATE on every pitch," said Staub. "I don't mean every pitch when I'm at the plate in a game. Every batter does that or should. I mean I concentrate on every pitch even in batting practice. Why?

"Well, the reason is simple. I don't want to pick up any bad habits that I might unconsciously take into a game with me. If you are not constantly concentrating in the batter's box, you can pick up bad habits."

IT SEEMED TO some press box observers watching Staub in the on-deck circle during last week's Astrodome series with the Giants that he literally was swinging at pitches of Gaylord Perry and Juan Marichal to Jim Wynn, Toy Cannon of the Astros who bats before Staub.

"That's right," said Staub. "I was timing and swinging at their pitches from the on-deck circle. And I was taking some pitches, checking my swing.

"I TRY TO wait for a pitch and hit it where it's pitched. If a pitcher zips me, that's one thing. If he gets me out that's his job. But I don't want to make his job easier by getting myself out, lunging at bad pitches."

Staub seldom lunges at pitches now although like most lefthand swingers he has his problems with soutpaws. Ray Sadecki zipped him in the third game of the recent Astrodome series, the only one the Giants won.

STAUB STOOD up to his full 6-3 height in the batter's box when he was a rookie. That was the way he hit for Jesuit High in New Orleans where he played four years of baseball and basketball and became "Louisiana Schoolboy Athlete of the Year" in 1961.

"I don't remember how many stances I tried before getting comfortable in the one I finally settled on," said Staub. "You have to work those things out for yourself. I don't think anyone can be taught to hit."

THE STANCE STAUB now uses is a semi-crouch with knees flexed. Pitchers no longer can zip him with a low fast ball around the knees as they once did. Staub's batting average has been on a steady rise the past four seasons, .216, .256, .280 and a powerful .333 last year when he led the National League in doubles with 44.

His early season average this year has been quite satisfactory. Indeed, it was .344 last time the Giants saw him in the Astrodome.

Cards Stretch Lead To Four Games

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Pittsburgh Pirates ever get Jim Bunning a few runs they'll be dangerous. If the St. Louis Cardinals get anybody a few more runs they'll be unstoppable.

The Cardinals widened their National League lead to four games last night by nipping luckless Bunning and the surprisingly punchless Pirates 1-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Nelson Briles.

St. Louis has scored just 12 runs in its last six starts . . . and won four of them.

The Pirates have totaled 11 runs in splitting their last six games. Bunning is 3-3 on the season . . . with a pair of 1-0 setbacks in the last two weeks. The 36-year-old right-hander, acquired by Pittsburgh in a winter trade, lost five 1-0 decisions with Philadelphia last year.

In other National League night games—the only other action in the majors—the Chicago Cubs whipped Los Angeles 5-1 and Atlanta shaded Philadelphia 4-2.

Curt Flood's double and Roger Maris' run-scoring single in the first inning gave Briles all the support he needed in winging to his fifth victory against two losses.

Briles, tagged for a single by Bill Mazeroski and a double by Willie Stargell in the first inning, pitched out of the jam and then shackled the Pirates, whose team batting average dipped to .226.

After giving up the first inning run, Bunning allowed only one more St. Louis runner to reach second base until the eighth, when he left for a pinch hitter.

Ernie Banks cracked a two-run homer for the Cubs, who spotted Los Angeles a 1-0 first inning lead before moving ahead to stay in the fourth on singles by Don Kessinger, Glenn Beckert and Billy Williams plus a sacrifice fly by Ron Santo.

Santo singled home another run in the sixth before Banks unloaded his fifth 1968 homer . . . and the 447th of his career.

Southpaw Ken Holtzman was the winner with eighth inning relief help from former Dodger Phil Regan. Ken Boyer, making his Dodger debut, drove in the only run off Holtzman with the first of his two singles.

Knuckleballer Phil Niekro stopped Philadelphia on three hits and keyed the Braves' deciding two-run rally in the ninth with a bunt single. Reliever Dick Farrell walked pinch hitter Tito Francona with the bases jammed, forcing in the tie-breaking run, and Hank Aaron provided insurance with a sacrifice fly.

Aaron's brother Tommy got the Braves off to an early lead with a two-run homer but the Phils tied it in the fourth on a two-run single by Johnny Briggs.

Record Amounts Bet At Golden Gate Fields

ALBANY (AP) — Records were set in the amount of money bet during the 50-day Northern California Racing Association meeting just concluded at Golden Gate Fields.

A total of $47,874,769 was wagered during the 10-week session, for an average of $957,495 daily.

Last year, $42,849,962 was bet during 48 days for a daily average of $913,541.

Attendance for the 50 days totaled 551,434, an average of 11,028 daily.

The winningest jockey was Bill Hartack. He rode 41 winners, compared with 38 for Bobby Jennings, 36 for Ray York and 30 for Paul Frey.

A crowd of 10,124 attended the last racing day for the association yesterday and saw Paris Gigolo take the $10,000 Golden Gate Purse.

Paris Gigolo paid $4, $2.60 and $2.60. Tanfo Gold was second, paying $3.60 and $3. The Bagel King was third, paying $7.

Time for the six furlongs was 1:09 3-5.

Tanforan takes over the course tomorrow with 24 racing days through June 15.

Stock Car Winner

Jerry Calloway of Novato scored his first stock car win of the season at the Petaluma Auto Races last Friday by winning the semi-main event for Sportsmen. Calloway also captured the first heat in sportsmens class.

Golfers Keep Eyes On Weather

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Thundershowers coupled with tornado warnings threatened to curb practice rounds in advance of the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Weather permitting, the $125,000 tournament will open Thursday over the soggy, 7,000-yard Colonial course.

Early arrivals sloshed around yesterday and hoped, in the face of rain and a tornado watch, to get in more practice today.

Thundershowers hammering Texas the past week left the course soaked but otherwise in excellent condition. More rain was forecast.

The field was completed yesterday with the addition of eight players — Texans Don Cherry, Rocky Thompson, Billy Martindale, Jerry Edwards, Bert Weaver and Cliff Blocker, and Larry Mowry of San Diego and John Schlee of Memphis.

Tom Weiskopf, leading money winner of the PGA tour, withdrew. Weiskopf said he had an Ohio date with his draft board and, with one extension already, could not get another.

Ben Hogan, a five-time Colonial winner, and Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, are skipping the tournament.

Taking up the slack are George Archer, winner Sunday of the New Orleans Open, and Billy Casper, one of golf's all-time big winners.

Also on hand are South African Gary Player, defending champion Dave Stockton and most of the other top names, including two-time Colonial champ Julius Boros.

Pac-8 Track Meet Should Be A Dilly

OAKLAND (AP) — The Pacific-8 Conference, top track and field conference in the nation, held the spotlight yesterday at the weekly meeting of the Northern California Track Writers.

The conference meet will be held Friday and Saturday at Berkeley.

Payton Jordan and Sam Bell, track coaches at Stanford and California, were absent.

The sports publicists filled in.

"There has never been a conference meet like this before, anywhere in America," said Bob Steiner of California.

Don Liebendorfer of Stanford said no group or organization in the world could hold a meet which would equal this one.

Pacific-8 athletes hold the nation's top collegiate marks in the 100, 800, mile, two-mile, three-mile, high hurdles, intermediate hurdles, 440 relay, shot put, discus, javelin, high jump and pole vault.

Eight Swimmers Make 'A' Times

Huge Throng Welcomes NHL Champs

MONTREAL (AP) — A crowd estimated by police at between 600,000 and 1,000,000 turned out for a 20-mile cavalcade through downtown streets last night to pay tribute to this year's Stanley Cup champions—the Montreal Canadiens.

Throngs were lined 10 deep as the motorcade took three hours to travel from the Montreal Forum to east-end Lafontaine Park.

Thousands of others were on hand at the park to greet the players on their arrival.

A civic reception atop Mount Royal followed the parade. More than 300 invited guests were on hand for the banquet.

Mayor Jean Drapeau paid special tribute to Toe Blake, who announced his retirement as coach immediately following Saturday's 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Blues.

'A' Times For 10 Young Swimmers

Ten San Rafael Swim Club members made A times at the Santa Rosa Neptune "B" meet Saturday and Sunday.

No One Wanted To Make Error Behind 'Catfish'

OAKLAND—Even in these days of widespread inept hitting, the perfect game performance of A's pitcher Jim "Catfish" Hunter must be deemed remarkable. Especially when one pauses to consider the A's have been playing baseball—in one place or another—since 1901 and that not one of their hurlers was ever before "perfect."

The pressure on "Catfish" and the other 10 perfect hurlers only TEN) who date back to 1880 had to be unendurable. It's difficult enough just to sit and watch the attempt. There's nothing in sports quite like it.

I DON'T CARE what sort of comparison one wishes to make in sports performance. None is valid — not a 30-for-30 completion rate by a quarterback or hole-in-one or 300 game. They all must pale.

The abiding problem that faced Hunter in the Coliseum the other night — even more than the tension — had to be the thought that one of his teammates might kick one behind him. He could pitch his heart out and still one of the Twins might reach base on an error. Goodbye perfection.

DON'T THINK the fellows in the field weren't musing similarly. No one wants to be known as the guy who ruined somebody's perfect game.

In the eighth inning of that classic evening last week, muscular Minnesotan Bob Allison smashed one to Bert Campaneris at short. Instantly, there had to be concern — because just the night before Campy botched a carbon copy of the grounder. For Hunter, he made the play.

AND LEADING off the ninth, pinch hitter John Roseboro bounded one to second — an easy hopper that John Donaldson usually would field were he half asleep in pitch darkness. But this time you could see the second baseman quivering. John reached with both hands as if gathering up the riches of the East. His grasp was so firm, it appeared for a moment he might forget to throw out Roseboro at first. He didn't.

The Twins, to begin with, are an unlikely team to keep off base completely. The likes of Rod Carew, Tony Oliva and Cesar Tovar are rough to despoil; collaring two of the three on one night, yes — but hardly in toto.

THEN THERE are the dangerous Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison. Care is required when pitching to them—care to the point of possibly walking them. "Catfish" struck out "The Killer" three times and Allison once. But he admitted that in the late innings "I would have given up a walk if necessary to save the no-hitter."

Hunter had six 3-2 counts in the game — including one on the 27th batter, Rich Reese, so there existed the chance he might miss a corner and walk a man rather than groove one. Whatever Twin walked would have become a footnote in baseball history.

SUCH WAS the case 16 years ago with a mediocre Chicago Cub pitcher named Willie (The Knuck) Ramsdell. He appeared in a contest in Brooklyn in which the Dodgers' Carl Erskine was no-hitting the Cubbies.

But The Knuck had drawn a walk early in the going and become the only Chicago baserunner. He was later lifted for a pinchhitter.

NOW IT WAS the top of the ninth. Ramsdell was summoned to a broadcasting booth. It was then the practice in Brooklyn to interview the "heroes" of both winning and losing team in the post-game program. Willie had been the only "star" for the losers; he, at least, had been on base.

Erskine was pitching with two down in the ninth when Willie reached the booth. The Cub hurler looked down on the field and saw that Carl had two strikes on the Chicago batter.

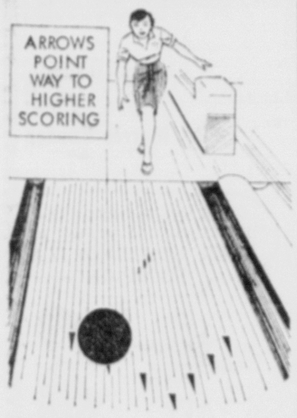
"C'mon, Carl," screeched Ramsdell so that all of Brooklyn might hear him, "Strike the bum out."

IT WAS NOT that Willie wanted his teammate to fan, or Erskine to get his no-hitter (which Carl did). Just that the post-game broadcaster paid each player interviewed 25 bucks.

All any of the Twins got for their ineptitude at the hands of Jim Hunter was a plane ride to Anaheim.

BOWLING TIPS

MARION LADEWIG



The arrows out on the lanes are designed to make good bowling easier for the once-a-week performer as well as for the professional. If you watch your ball cross the line of arrows, you will soon see which arrow will bring your ball closest to the pocket. That will be your "spot" for throwing strikes. It will be far easier to hit an arrow 15 feet away than to hit a certain pin 60 feet away.

Even Dame Nature Is Thinking About Outdoor Conservation

STEVENS

Today, all segments of our society are conservation conscious. One of the most potent of these is Dame nature. She sends her cohorts, wind and water, to protect the salmon in the ocean and the bass in the bays. Hence this reporter must classify angling as "spotty" to say the most for salmon trolling in the outside waters and striper striving in the local bays.

Talking to Minnie Caruso Sunday, I learned that for several days only a very few salmon trolling boats returned to port because of the rough, windy, and generally miserable oceanic conditions. However one must remember that the law of averages is infallible and every day of poor production means that it will be balanced by a productive day.

MINNIE REPORTED that no boats got past the Gate on Saturday, and only one braved the elements and made it past Point Bonito on the Sabbath.

Just because conditions are poor locally doesn't mean, of course, that the same is true of our northernmost state of Alaska.

I HAVE ON my desk a letter from that mighty hunter, Jack A. Shane. One of the several pictures Shane sent with his letter shows a swell take of fish—steelhead and northern pike. It was cold and rainy" at the time Jack wrote the short letter. Here it is, verbatim:

"Just a note from Alaska to let you know the Shanes have done it again. Having a fine hunting trip. I shot a 10-foot, six-inch Polar Bear up at Teller, a 7-foot black bear and a granddaddy of a brown bear with an 11-foot, 3-inch hide.

"The Fish and Game Department in Anchorage who scaled my brown bear, said it is the largest they have seen in many years.

"My guides this year are Buddy Woods and Gene Needles of Palmer."

I STILL have a number of recipes on 'Thirty Ways to Prepare Salmon for the Oven," but please, if sending for a free copy, use a legal size self-addressed and stamped envelope. The recipes are rather bulky and hard to fold and stuff into a social size envelope.

Blues' Goalie Playoff MVP

MONTREAL (AP) — Veteran goalie Glenn Hall, who admits he hates hockey and plays only for the money, is $1,500 richer Hall, whose St. Louis Blues lost the Stanley Cup finals to Montreal in four straight games, yesterday was named winner of the Conn Smythe Trophy as the most valuable player in the National Hockey League playoffs. The award carries a prize of $1,500.

Academy Wins League Swim Title

San Rafael Military Academy's swimming team broke a seven-year Menlo stranglehold on the Bay County League swim meet title with a tingling crown capture by a half a point last Friday at SRMA.

The Cadets, with plenty of depth to show, took only three first places, a double win by Fred Kuell in the 50 and 100 freestyles and a medley relay win, but they won the meet, 71-70½ over Menlo.

Menlo lost the meet on the strength of a fourth-place tie with Lick Wilmerding in the 400 freestyle.

The victory marked the first time that the Cadets had won the swim title in 13 years. Menlo had won it the past seven years.

The Cadet baseballers were less fortunate, getting pasted by St. Vincent's of Petaluma, 16-4.

The win gave St. Vincent's the North Bay Counties title, its first ever.

I married a somebody who can wait all day for a fish to bite, double bogey 5 times in 9 holes, or sit half the night in a duckblind—and love every minute of it.

I married a somebody who can reel off sports statistics, settle a political argument, and give sympathy to the lovelorn—all in the same breath.

I married a somebody who can laugh at a stale joke, listen to an endless story, and remember your name even if he's only met you once.

I married a very special somebody everybody seems to like. I married a bartender.

Today is Tuesday, May 14, the 135th day of 1968 with 231 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Saturn and Venus. The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1904 the Olympic games were held in the United States for the first time, at St. Louis.

In 1940 Nazi planes bombed The Rotterdam, killing about 30,000 persons.

In 1942 Congress established the Woman's Auxiliary Army Corps.

In 1948 Britain ended her 31-year rule in Palestine, followed immediately by a proclamation in Tel Aviv of the birth of the free State of Israel.

A thought for the day: Novelist George Meredith said, "A witty woman is a treasure; a witty beauty is a power."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

West's Second Spade Lead Gives North Co-Operation For A Slam

The release of "Yours, Mine and Ours," the new movie starring Lucille Ball and Henry Fonda, brings to mind the evening that members of the cast and the producer played bridge at my house. Robert Blumofe, the producer, says he knows nothing about bridge, but he admits to knowing something about people.

Opening lead — ♠ Q

LOW FROM DUMMY

West led the queen of spades, and Blumofe played low from dummy. East, a celebrated movie hero, signaled enthusiastically with the eight of spades.

Blumofe ruffed, drew one round of trumps with the queen and thought for a few seconds. Then he made a surprise switch, leading the deuce of diamonds.

West won with the ten of diamonds and continued with the jack of spades. "I thougth you might do that," Blumofe remarked. East and West looked modest and proud at the same time, a difficult feat for the average bridge player but no trick at all for first-rank professional actors.

Blumofe ruffed the second spade, led a club to the ten and ruffed a third spade. Then he led a club to the queen and ruffed dummy's last spade with the ace of trumps.

Declarer next led his last trump to dummy's king and cashed the ten of trumps, discarding the losing diamond from his hand. Then he could take the rest with the ace of diamonds and the top clubs, making the slam contract.

ALL HAPPY

"Very pretty," I commented. "In the trade we would call that a co-operative dummy reversal." Blumofe nodded blandly. "In my trade we call it working with the cast," he said silkily.

Everybody at the table seemed happy, so we never pointed out that South would not have made the slam without West's second spade lead.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens two hearts (forcing to game), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 8 7 3
♦ Q 9 8 5
♣ 8 6 4 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two no trump the "negative" response.

Your 6 points in high cards are not enough for a positive response in view of the very poor fit for hearts. If partner had opened with two spades you would have raised to three spades at once.

Independent Telephone Companies Growing Fast

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I can't afford much risk. Friends tell me that a good mixture of growth, income and safety is found in "non-Bell" telephone companies. Please explain why. — E.W.

A. Your friends mean the publicly owned segment of some 2,000 independent companies outside the Bell system, growing faster than Bell affiliates because they're operating largely in areas where rapid commercial development is attracting workers, thus adding to normal population growth.

New installastions for the independents increased 6 per cent during 1967 compared with a 1.6 per cent population gain. Their annual compound growth rate of 11 per cent in revenues for the past 10 years contrasts with Bell's 7.6 per cent and 5.5 per cent for the gross national product. Smaller independents, by consolidating, are acquiring the financial strength to move into more sophisticated aspects of telecommunications where the industry's growth potential is impressive — computer-linked data transferral electronic switching and CATV development.

Leading the independents is General Telephone & Electronics with more than half its revenues coming from manufacturing subsidiaries. Other outstanding independents include Rochester Telephone, Carolina T&T, Lincoln Telephone, Florida Telephone, and some utility holding companies wherein telephone operations generate the largest revenues. These are United Utilities, Continental Telephone, Mid-Continent and Western Power and Gas — a takeover possibility by a major independent.

These leaders report earnings in a steady uptrend and their cash dividends are regularly increased. I favor for long-term growth General Telephone, Rochester, Continental and United Utilities.

Q. I own 50 Walgreen Drug. Shares have dropped from 45 to the mid 30s. Should I sell or hold for recovery? — C.Z.

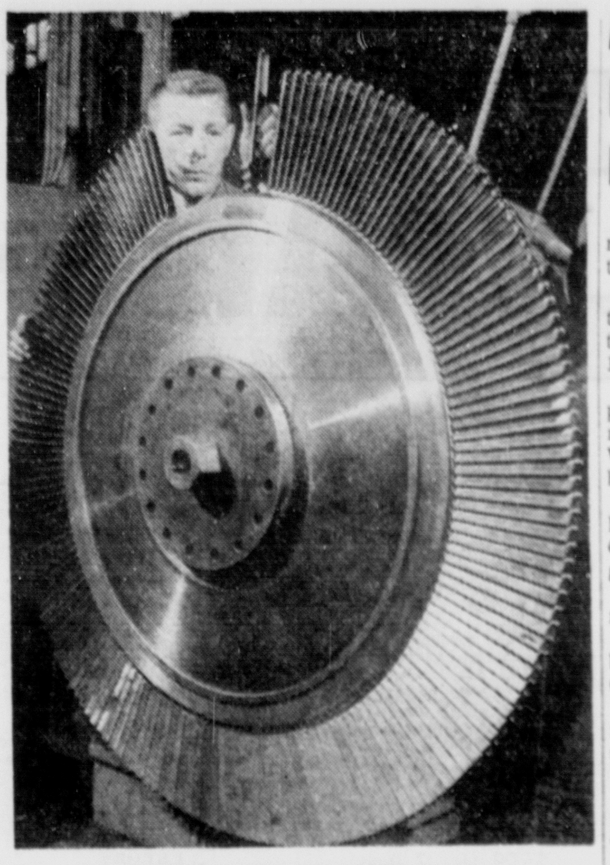
A. By all means continue to hold. The price drop you mention began last October paralleling a decline in the market as a whole. Walgreen operates one of the nation's largest drug chains. Recent emphasis on the more profitable prescription business and self-service units should hep widen profit margins.

In the March quarter, earnings were off on increased sales, but for the year ending Sept. 30 a rise of about 10 per cent is expected. As I have previously stated here, Walgreen is a good long-term — five years at least — growth issue.

PG&E Gets Approval On Generator Unit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The State Public Utilities Commission has ruled that the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. may add another steam turbine generator unit at its Pittsburg power plant.

Cost of the new equipment will be $86 million, it was reported Tuesday.



WHEEL FOR GENERATOR

A wheel for a large steam turbine generator is assembled at Workington Corp.'s turbine division in Wellsville, N.Y. The blades are inserted individually in a specially machined groove and then locked in place. The company manufacturers turbines ranging from 5 to 5,000 horsepower for industrial, municipal and utility applications. (UPI Telephoto)

Massey - Ferguson, second most-active, was up 1⅝.

American Motors was up ⅜, but Chrysler was off 1¼, and General Motors was off ⅜.

Tiburon Council Hit Over Street Repairs

Tiburon City Council worked out a compromise with residents of Hillhaven last night on the repair of Diviso Street after the residents requested the street "be made safe."

Andrew Johnson, of 349 Ridge Road, said fellow Hillhaven residents were not satisfied with the council's present repair plans. He said, "We want it to be a safe street and we will go to Sacramento if we have to."

Johnson's heated remarks came about as the council considered five bids received to repair sections of six streets, including Diviso, the only access to the Hillhaven area.

Johnson said the residents wanted the narrow street widened and resurfaced but "all we are getting is some chuck-holes filled up. This kind of a compromise is scandalous. Shall we move off the hill because of your street policy? As Mayor William R. Bremer shook his head, Johnson said, "then fix the street'!"

Councilmen agreed to the Mayor's suggestion to accept a low bid of $10,062 from W. K. McLellan Co. of San Rafael for the job as planned, but left the door open for additional work on Diviso Street.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said further work could be added to the contract by a change-order. The council, directed him to report on possible changes at the May 27 meeting, as a compromise solution.

The possibility of a courtesy parking lot for residents of Tiburon opened up as the council talked with an attorney from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

Mayor Bremer directed Councilmen Anne L. Ellinwood and Denis T. Rice to meet with City Atty. Robert I. Conn, the railroad's attorney and members of the planning commission to discuss whether or not to have paid parking in the railroad's lot at Tiburon Boulevard and Main Street. Legal problems which Deputy City Atty. Richard H. Breiner termed "complex" are also to be hammered out.

Councilman Ellinwood asked if it were possible to work out a courtesy lot, in which one section would be reserved for residents with stickers on their cars, as in Sausalito.

Railroad attorney William A. Finsterbusch said the idea "made a lot of sense" and he felt something could be worked out between the city and the railroad.

Finsterbusch asked for an expression of the council on the lot and councilmen voted to favor a commerical lot "with considerations" such as the possibility of courtesy parking.

The committee will also discuss whether weekday commuters will have a special rate, or pay the same as weekend touristz, Bremer said.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ABANDONED CARS — Adopted unanimously an ordinance providing for the removal of abandoned vehicles from private or public property in the city.

CITY-COUNTY COUNCIL — Appointed Councilman Ellinwood and Planning Commission Chairman Joseph C. Marshall as Tiburon members of the Marin City-County Planning Council.

COMMUNITY ACTION — Approved adoption by county supervisors of an alternative proposal to have the county establish an economic opportunity council only if it agrees to increase the county program and budget control.

SUMMER RECREATION — Agreed to allocate $375 to Reed School District to administer a joint teen-age summer recreation program with Belvedere.

CITY KEY — Saw a wooden key to the city, prepared for distinguished visitors. Mayor Bremer said councilmen were to use the key "with discretion."

CALENDAR — Approved three routine items at one time, by adopting a "consent calendar," including reports from he police department and the development administrator, Phil V. Scott. Also accepted a grant deed from John Musso, so the city can build a curb and gutter on his Main Street property at the corner of Tiburon Boulevard.

BEES — Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood reported she and Councilman Denis T. Rice would make a recommendation at the May 27 meeting on abating as a public nuisance bees kept at the Ted Steiger residence, 10 St. Bernard Lane. A report was also promised on a proposed ordinance to include the control of other small animals on which the city has had complaints, Miss Ellinwood said.

TAX RAISE — Heard a request from Ben Farlatti of the Tiburon Lodge, that the city raise its room tax from 4 to 5 per cent, as of July 1. Farlatti said the tax increase would add $2,000 to the city's revenue. Farlatti also asked that the city use the money from this tax to have the parks and recreation commission "clean up and beautify the city." City Manager Rose was directed to have an ordinance prepared for the tax raise.

REVERSIONARY RIGHTS — Heard a report from Rose that $10,000 is immediately available toward the purchase of 1.9 miles of Northwestern Pacific Railroad's right-of-way, but the balance of $25,000 will have to come from other sources, possibly a federal open-space grant.

Query Delays City Hearing On Hilarita

A citizens committee letter last night caused postponement by the Tiburon City Council of its final public hearing on the question of whether the city wants moderate income housing on the Hilarita site.

The letter from the "Local Zoning Control Committee" asked for detailed information on the history on the Hilarita site, its zoning, its present operation and the proposal under consideration to eatablish 50 moderate-income units and 12 single-family lots. The letter also requested information on Hilarita from Marin County Housing Authority files.

The ad hoc committee is a group of Rolling Hills property owners, headed by Harold B. Wilde of 175 Round Hill Road.

Councilman Thomas E. Drohan said, "This new inquiry brings a need for some new answers," and Mayor William R. Bremer agreed.

The council decided to move the public hearing set for May 27, to June 10, to be held at Reed School auditorium if available. Mayor Bremer said the hearing would be the first item on the agenda, starting at 8 p.m.

The council received a resolution from the planning commission, asking the council to "refrain from adopting any policy with respect to rezoning any portion of the Hilarita property.

"With all due respect, a fundamental point has been missed," Councilman Drohan commented, explaining that there is no application before the council for rezoning the land.

Councilmen voted to reassure the planning commission they had no intention of usurping the commission's job to consider rezoning petitions.

Race Relations Discussion Set

A public discussion of race relations will be held by the College of Marin student group, "Committee for Racial Understanding," at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Room G-E of the college physical education complex.

Topics will include whether Negro history and art courses should be offered by the college and what it means to be a Negro in Marin County, according to Felicity Nitz and Eileen Madera, both of San Rafael and student spokesmen for the committee.

Driver Hears Four Charges

Lloyd P. Brickman, the 24-year-old Corte Madera resident arrested after his car was involved in two collisions on Highway 101 Sunday, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on two felony and two misdemeanor charges.

He was charged with felonious assault on two California Highway Patrol officers — Larry L. Drudge and Palmer W. Cunningham — for allegedly kicking them in the groin when they stopped his car.

Brickman was also charged with hit-and-run and drunken driving.

Patrolmen said he was driving in a dangerous manner when he was involved in a seven-car and a two-car crash in the highway's northbound lanes. He fled both accidents, they said.

His case was continued until today for plea.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Sonic Boom Is Main Drawback To Supersonic Transport Age

VAN DELLEN

The main objection to supersonic aircraft is the superboom that startles everyone on the ground. Windows, walls, dishes and anything else capable of vibration, rattle.

Those who regard these thunderous booms as the price for progress or national security do not complain. Others do, because the noise shatters their nerves.

In addition, these booms can cause property damage. Authorities hope that we will learn to live with the racket and, in time, disregard it in much the same way as we now ignore the din of traffic, horns, riveters, pile drivers, and other disturbing sounds of daily living.

THERE IS NO way to silence the boom, but the volume can be reduced by modifying the shape of the air liner. When a carrier travels at supersonic speeds, molecules of air are packed into a wall in front of it. Hitting that wall continuously causes the thunderclap-like noise that is heard on the ground. It is not a single shock, but a collection of them. The drag (air displacement) at the end of the tail also produces a shock.

Atmospheric conditions affect the noise and deviating from a straight course greatly magnifies the boom along a 50-mile wide trail. The boom also decreases rapidly with increase in altitude.

THERE IS NO evidence that supersonic booms have endangered health. We can predict that many abnormalities will be blamed on the racket. This is true of two-thirds of the property damage claims which the federal aviation agency could not accept as a direct result of sonic vibrations.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ARTHRITIC JOINTS

B. Z. writes: In one of your articles concerning arthritis, you made the following statement: "Anyone with active arthritis should protect the diseased joints." I'd like to know how a person does this. I am referring to finger joints.

REPLY

Protect them from being injured, such as when working with tools or doing the housework. Arthritic knees can be injured by running, jumping, climbing ladders, or being overweight.

MUMPS WHEN PREGNANT

Mrs. E. writes: If a pregnant woman develops mumps, will her unborn baby get it too?

REPLY

There is no way to tell for certain unless the baby is born while the mother has mumps. This possibility is remote but has been reported in children of mothers who developed mumps as they neared delivery.

PRESSURE, RED MEAT

L.B. writes: Can a person who has high blood pressure eat red meat?

REPLY

Yes. At one time, beef, pork, and lamb were restricted to spare the kidneys, but we now know that the body needs these first-class proteins. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on hypertension.

VIRUS AND BRONCHI

I. S. writes: Can a virus affect the bronchial tubes?

REPLY

Yes. Influenza, the common cold, and viral pneumonia are examples.

Concert Set To Aid Black Institute

Five white College of Marin students who refused to be discouraged after Negro students walked out on a recent "black and white encounter" at the college are planning a benefit concert to raise money bor black students.

The five, who are informally organized into an untitled group, have scheduled the concert for June 2 at the college. Cal Tjader and Vince Guaraldi are tentatively set to appear, according to Peter Thompson, spokesman for the group.

Proceeds from the concert will be given to the Black Students for Action to establish a Black Institute for Study at the college and to finance scholarships for black students, Thompson said.

The five students got together Thompson said, after the May 3 encounter. At the meeting, black students said whites who wanted to "do something" could donate money to black organizations for programs and jobs. Blacks later walked out of the meeting and the remaining white students were unable to agree on fund raising programs.

That's when Thompson and his associates decided to strike out on their own. They first planned a door-to-door solicitation throughout the county on May 19. That fell through when municipal and county red tape proved to be too complicated.

The group also hopes to arrange a benefit performance by Bill Cosby. Cosby has promised to perform at the college the next time he's in San Francisco, Thompson said.

The five students meet informally when necessary, Thompson said. Their last meeting was held at 1:30 a.m. Sunday in Bill Cosby's dressing room at the Circle Star Theater in San Carlos.

Tomales Unification Plan Is Due Hearing

A hearing will be held tomorrow by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization on the proposal to unify all schools in the Tomales High School District.

Following the hearing, which starts at 8 p.m. at the Tomales High School, the committee will hold a regular meeting to include a discussion of current legislation that may affect the unification of school districts.

Keeps Busy Working For Volunteer Bureau

A retired social worker who lives in Woodacre and devotes a great deal of time to driving people to hospitals and doctor appointments is the Marin Volunteer Bureau's nominee for Senior Citizen of the Year.

Mrs. Charlotte Cooper says that she "likes to drive" and that is why she volunteered for this kind of service. The 69-year-old widow says she thinks nothing of delivering a patient to Letterman General Hospital before 8 a.m.

Among the other volunteer activities Mrs. Cooper has performed since her retirement is a survey she did for the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council. The director, Victor H. Cary, wanted information about average incomes of Marin families, ages of children and other facts, Mrs. Cooper said, but had no money to have a survey made.

So Mrs. Cooper by "digging here and there" came up with a great deal of the information he wanted.

In addition to the activities for the volunteer bureau, Mrs. Cooper serves on the Senior Forum, a coordinating council for senior citizen groups, and is vice president of the Marin branch of the American Association of Retired People.

A resident of Woodacre for 10 years, Mrs. Cooper commuted to the East Bay, where she was a social worker, until her retirement four years ago.

A widow since 1939, Mrs. Cooper has one daughter, Mrs. Peggy Tachet, who lives near her in Woodacre. She also has two grandsons.

Bagley Sets Talk

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, seeking a fifth term in the June 4 primary election, will be the guest speaker before the Marin Federated Republican Women at noon on May 21 at the Marin Country Club, Novato.

Student Body Elects Novato High Officers

Kevin McDowell will be president of the Associated Student body at Novato High School during the fall semester.

He won the presidency in Friday's election over Philip Emswiler, according to Janice Howard, commissioner of internal affairs.

Glenn Holsclaw will be the vice president, beating Glena Grewe. Anita Soper won the secretaryship over Elaine Garrison.

Lorna Parr and Mike Ahern, both unopposed, will be the commissioners of finance and athletics respectively.

Diana Halpenny won the commissioner of public relations job over Carol Miller. Jackie Rush defeated Deborah Drobay for commissioner of social activities. Steve Loegering will be commissioner of student affairs, winning over Laurie Colburn. Mike Lloyd won the commissioner of justice position in a three-way race, beating Eleanor Garrison and Debi Welch.

The seven pom pom girls who won in a field of 15, were Dawn Damas, Leslee Giannini, Maureen Heyman, Deedee Jones, Wendy Kanoff, Terri Keyser and Coleen Watson.

The four cheer leaders out of a field of eight, were Kathy Musser, Debbie Linke, Tommie Holt and Linda Higashi.

Glenn Harless and Pam Matson will be the mascots, leading a field of five.

The number of votes each candidate received is not given by the school, according to Miss Howard in order to spare the feelings of losers.

Pirate Jean LaFitte received a presidential pardon for past crimes because of his help in the successful defense of New Orleans in 1815.

First Rabid Skunk Of Year Reported

Marin County's first rabid skunk for 1968 was reported to the county health department May 4.

The skunk was discovered by Leslie Stone of Barranca Road in Forrest Knolls on property behind his home. The skunk was staggering and being chased by three dogs when he shot it, Stone told health department officials.

The dogs have been identified and are now being quarantined, Miss Nancy Ruggeri, health department spokesman, said.

Dogs exposed to rabid animals must be revaccinated and quarantined for 30 days, quarantined for six months without a revaccination, or destroyed, Miss Reuggeri said.
